Colma Creek Interim Plan

Flood Work to Begin

A $350,000 interim improvement plan to contain the annual Colma Creek flooding at least temporarily was approved by the South San Francisco City Council Monday night.

This project is to do the job until an $8.4 million permanent plan can be implemented, starting possibly next year. Former Department of Ecological Development Director Fred Hull said the interim project is a "90 per cent credit" toward the permanent improvements.

These would include $95,000 for Linden Bridge improvements: $89,000 for channel excavation, $20,000 for new bridge approaches and $10,000 for removal of an existing culvert.

"VTN (formerly the city's contracted engineering firm) understands time is of the essence," Hull related. He stressed the need to complete interim work before winter rains arrive. Work can begin immediately, beginning with advertising for bids. Construction can be completed in 30 days with an overtime work force on the bridge section. By November the bridge can be at waterflow capacity and by December the bridge can be opened to vehicular traffic. During the construction, traffic will be closed on Linden Avenue, he said.

Hull explained that Linden Bridge over Colma Creek is the major bottleneck during flooding such as that of the last winter season. Other bridges including Spruce, Orange and Chestnut could be part of the final and permanent plan next year.

When the approved bridge work is completed it will have a 3,200 cubic feet per second capacity.

The former DED director also said that the lower bridge should be done before any more water is loaded on into the industrial area. This point is a recommendation of both VTN and a county engineering report.

"Ninety per cent of this interim work could be described as a credit toward the total project," Hull assured the council. He said the bridge will have four 12-foot-wide lanes which can be expanded to six lanes in the future. He also noted the material will be composite and is a "popular bridge design" used throughout state freeway projects.

City Attorney John Noonan explained that originally the council passed a resolution in November last year regarding a local project in the South San Francisco creek area with a 5,100 cubic feet per second capacity. County and agencies involved consented to South San Francisco forming that project but the county wanted to administer it itself. The council sent $255,000 to the county to cover several improvements but the county in turn sent the check back and had decided it would be better done as a totally local project.

"I fail to see how we can not pursue a project like this," the mayor declared.

The council's approval of the expenditure, with Councilman Frank Mammini absent, brought a round of applause from the small audience.

"Let's just get this job done," Steinkamp asserted.

In other Colma Creek business, acting DED co-director Mike Wilson presented background for a Cal-Water levee on the creek. The council passed a resolution by Ahern for a "maximum protection" levee at $18,000.

Wilson had recommended a less costly project at $10,000 with a select fill and a high compaction rate. However, the council determined it would be safer to accept the higher cost for a gunite surface.

Acting City Manager Ed Alario told the council that by building the $10,000 levee it would leave the city open to more possibility for a breakthrough and eventually more lawsuits not worth the $8000 savings in construction.

He also said if such a levee were to break through it would wipe out all houses in that area. He thus recommended the higher costing project.

"It would be foolish to think of doing any other way if it might wipe out houses," Ahern declared.

Also relating to the creek, the council approved appointment of

Petitions Presented

Votes Assured on Two Coast Measures

Pacifica's voters were assured of at least three city measures on their Nov. 6 election ballot, as a result of last night's City Council meeting.

Sandy de Marco, a leading member of the United Citizens of Pacifica, walked up to City Mgr. David Thompson and handed him a thick pile of petitions, neatly tied with a red ribbon and a huge paper rose.

"Over 4000 voters," she announced, "are asking you to repeal your Rockaway Highlands rezoning ordinance — or submit it for a special election."

Thompson handed the petitions to City Atty. John Sherman, who carefully untied the ribbon, then took the rose and handed it to Charles Trifiletti, a spokesman for Challenge Developments, owner of Rockaway Highlands.

Mayor Aubrey Lumley announced that he was taking custody of the petitions for the purpose of verifying the signatures "and if are found valid, set the referendum vote for Nov. 6."

Only 1400 names need to be found valid — 10 per cent of the registered voters.

Noting that there is an Aug. 2 deadline for getting measures onto the ballot "or face a cost of $8000 for a special election," Lumley called for a check on the validity of the signatures by that date — scarcely a week away.

He said that, with 4000 names, it would take $500 to check them all. However, Janice Fulford, one of the spokesmen for United Citizens of Pacifica, suggested merely checking the names until 1400 are shown to be valid. Sherman said he would check into the legality of that move.

Councilmen then voted, 3-0, to place on the ballot their own proposal — a bond measure to buy the 336-acre Rockaway Highlands project "for open space or for other public purposes."

"I know what the immediate response will be," Councilman Grace McCarthy commented when the measure was introduced, " . . . that it is not the only choice."

Should the voters revoke the rezoning, the developer would have three choices, she said:

1. To produce a new plan.
2. To leave it like it is.
3. To sell it to the city for open space.

"How about having all three choices on the ballot?" suggested Emory Lebonville from the audience.

Lumley replied that all three choices would be implied in the voting. Should the voters reject

House Saved By Man in a Wheelchair

A man who is confined to his wheelchair was responsible for saving a home in Pacifica from serious damage when fire broke out in the kitchen yesterday afternoon.

According to Pacifica Fire Capt. Harvey Georgeson Lee E. Bowman, who was staying with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brandt, at 1284 Alvarado Ave., was watching television in the living room when he heard a crackling of fire. He wheeled himself into the kitchen and saw some flames leaping out of a plastic wastebasket under the sink.

He first tossed some pots of water at the flames. When he saw that he was making no headway, he quickly wheeled himself to the kitchen phone, called firemen, then, leaving the phone dangling on the cord, sped out as fast as he could go — slowing down only to get the family St. Bernard dog out of the house.

The Linda Mar fire company — its usual two men augmented by four off-duty men who hap-

Breon to Negotiate In JESD

Newly appointed acting superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District, Keith Breon, made another move on Wednesday to itghten his administrative grip on the district.

Following a closed-door session at the administrative building — the second such meeting of the night — Breon was named by the board majority to take over direct negotiations with certificated employes.

The firm of Public Labor Relations Inc., consisting of Atty. David Friendenberg, Ray Vetterlein and Eugene Aiello, had been negotiating with emoloyes for a fee of $4,800 per year payable at the rate of $400 monthly.

Breon said he was assuming the role of negotiator because of "austerity reasoning."

The contract expires in Septemer.

The Post learned Breon has informed Public Labor Relations that it yould not be extended past that period.

The talks between Breon, the board and Atty. Friedenberg were carried out behind closed doors and the acting superintendent later said, "I am not at liberty to discuss the matter with anyone in public."

Teacher representative Marian Moss, speaking to the board following the decision, said she hoped "good faith negotiations" could soon get under way between the district and teachers.

Trustees James Cranna and Edward Tomasello voted "no" on the matter.

Borba Asks for New SSF Citizen Police Committee

South San Francisco City Councilman William Borba wants a citizens police commission or committee to watch over the city Police Department.

His council colleagues weren't too enthusiastic about the idea when Borba brought it up at Monday night's adjourned meeting but asked him to come in with more information.

Borba said he would, adding that many larger cities have such citizens groups.

"We went through quite a time without any knowledge of what was going on," Borba declared relating to recent council experience. He said that the city council's information on police matters is "ridiculous" and that most of the time the council doesn't even know there are any problems going on "and yet the conflict gets aired."

He also related such a committee would make the department and the council more alert and prevent what he called "innocent employees being victims" such as the case of policeman Keith Fazackerly who was fired but later reinstated after a long controversy.

"Look how much it cost the taxpayers," Borba offered.

Councilman Patrick Ahern inquired as to what the purpose and the job of the committee members would be. Borba said generally their purpose would be to keep a constant eye over the department.

"The city is big enough now that we can use reliable citizens," he noted.

Councilman Terry Mirri declared he has some reservations and objections to such a group. He said it could involve serious political overtones rather than real concern for the police department. He expressed his desire to avoid creating a vehicle for "witch hunting" and that while the council should pay closer attention to things going on in all departments, this may not be the best way.

"I'm just a little afraid a committee such as this could work an unneccessary restriction and have political overtones," he claimed.

Borba declared its function and format would be no different than other city committees and commissions. However the council asked for more information which he has promised to supply.

The council also continued its discussion of payment of luncheon bills. Borba repeatedly has questioned such expenditures and reopened the discussion again Monday night. The council by a 3-1 vote finally did approve the bills for the month of June, with Borba opposing.

Borba expressed a desire that city employees hold meetings in the city hall office building rather than spending city money on luncheon meetings. He noted the "waste" of taxpayers' money. Ahern partly agreed with Borba but added that lunch expenditures by the personnel board may be a different concern.

Acting City Manager Ed Alario further pointed out personnel board members are brought in from outside the city without payment to provide an objective and impartial service to the city. He said these people are entitled to eat their lunch and the work they do for South San Francisco often extends over an entire day.

Murri declared a need to study luncheon billings and determine a program or format so the council doesn't have to scrutinize the bills at every single meeting. Alario responded he will devise some guidelines to bring the council for its consideration.

Mayor Warren Steinkamp declared business often can be better conducted when all those involved have eaten and that it behooves the city to be cordial to all the guests who come here.

The council also took a look at VTN bills, the firm which was contracted to run the city for one year until its resignation in early June. The council asked Alario to provide a complete breakdown of ongoing city projects which were authorized under VTN and to determine what percentage of the projects are completed. He explained the city will have to deal with VTN bills until a new city engineer is hired. The position now is being advertised.

The council also passed five separate resolutions:

—Authorizing Alario and assistant Louise Coleman to draw warrants and checks filling in the role of former City Manager Gale Dreisbach;

—Changing the composition of the city's Environmental Impact Review (EIR) Board to include director of public services and city engineer, deleting the city planner and director of public works;

—Designating council representatives including Mirri to Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), Ahern to Airport Land Use Committee and Frank Mammini to Regional Planning Commission;

—Authorizing application for a grant under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Street Act; and —Authorizing release and partial reconveyance of four lots at Westborough Square.

both the rezoning and the bond issue, for instance, that would mean that they wanted a new plan.

"It's blackmail," Mrs. Fulford angrily charged after the meeting. "They make it sound like an either-or proposition. Either you approve the rezoning, or you buy it."

The third measure was for an increase in the tax-rate to provide annual salary increases for city employes.

The measure proposes that the employes "receive an annual pay increase of any increase in the cost of living over the 1972-73 base year plus not to exceed one per cent. The pay increase, however, would not violate any state or federal law and not exceed six per cent of the present payroll costs."

Thompson explained that under SB90, no city may raise its tax-rate except by a vote — and that Pacifica could not grant any but a minimum pay increase to its employes without increasing taxes.

The measure had not been requested by the city employes, he said, although they will be given the opportunity to write the ballot argument.

It did not appear clear last night who had proposed the measure. Councilmen, earlier this month had signed memoranda of agreement with all of their employes except firemen for 5.3 per cent salary increases, considerably less than the employes' original request. Still, that increase equalled 14 to 16 cents per $100 valuation, Thompson said at the time, and he was not sure where the money would come from.

Last night, he commented that Pacifica does not get much money from sales tax, and other sources of funds — such as federal sharing and hotel-motel taxes, are much less than other cities of that size, and thus the money must come from property taxes.

Pacifica already has the highest city tax-rate in San Mateo County.

Save Pedro Creek Fish, Agency Asks

The County Environmental Quality Coordinating Council has voted to back preservation of the present ecological structure of San Pedro Creek.

The spring-fed trout stream winds down through the hills of south Pacifica and empties into the ocean near Linda Mar Beach.

The North Coast County Water District, which sells water to Pacifica area residents, has requested an increase in the amount of water the company takes from San Pedro Creek. Approximately 11 per cent of the company's water presently comes from the creek.

Pacifica Creek Protection Committee representatives — attending an EQCC public hearing on the matter Thursday in San Carlos — wanted to insure that enough water is left in the creek to continue supporting its present trout population.

The Coordinating Council will send a letter to the State Water Resources Control Board, urging that position.

Representatives from the California Fish and Game Dept. noted at the meeting that the department has revised its previous stand that a creek flow of 25-gallons-per-minute would preserve the stream's marine life. Department representatives said that a larger amount of creek flow water may be necessary to preserve San Pedro Creek as a viable fish stream.

SSF Parks Need New Methods of Financing

South San Francisco needs $2.5 million of parks improvements. It isn't going to get these improvements by the present "pay as you go" system, thus must present alternate methods of financing to the voters.

That is the conclusion of the 14-person Citizens' Capital Improvements Committee on Parks and Recreation, which has completed a study into the city's needs in this field.

The committee was headed by Robert Minucciani, aided by vice-chairman Robert Trombino and secretary Robert Teglia.

Coming from various neighborhoods, the members included Douglas Bishop, Antoinette Fraschieri, Ralph Iacini, Michael Paldszus, Bob Rebholtz, Eden Sloan, John Tamburini, Steven Tanegato, Charles Von Storch, John Yantis and Dorothy Yrjola.

Among their 18 projects, no priority was assigned to the previously proposed shoreline park.

The $2.5 million figure does not include a new recreation center.

The Citizens Committee established as first priority the development of a new park, using the city-owned 1.33-acre Serra Park (formerly the Botieff property) and the 8-acre undeveloped school site next to Alta Loma Junior High, at a cost of $250,000. It is hoped that the South San Francisco Unified School District would pay half.

The committee cited a need for more soccer, baseball and softball fields.

They proposed construction of a parking area, restrooms, and tot lot and installation of lighting facilities.

This is one of four projects given first priority. The other three involved improvement of Orange Memorial Park.

The committee urged that the 4.77-acre Mazzanti lands be acquired for park expansion, at a cost of $700,000, to alleviate current overcrowding at the park. They added that if the land had been acquired when the Citizens' Capital Improvements Committee first urged it in 1970, the cost would have been $500,000.

The group urged selling of the Magnolia Center at Grand and Magnolia avenues, which houses the senior citizens center, teen club, Park and Recreation Department, as well as the Chamber of Commerce office and various recreation classes.

The proceeds, expected to be $100,000 to $125,000, should go toward building a new community center at Orange Memorial Park the committee said.

Finally, it urged relocating the city's Corporation Yards at Orange Avenue Park.

It placed seven items under "priority two," taking in five separate sites.

First, the committee selected construction of the Westborough Park recreation building, on the northwest corner of Westborough Boulevard and Galway Drive, at an estimated $85,000.

Construction of this building would complete the third and final phase of the park's development. They urge that this project proceed "without delay."

Acquisition and development of a neighborhood park in the San Bruno Mountain area, to serve the Hillside area, at an estimated $200,000 cost also was urged.

Three other items concern Orange Memorial Park.

The committee wants the present covered pool expanded, with a diving pool, at an estimated $175,000 cost. The building was erected to provide for such expansion.

It wants to replace lighting fixtures at the softball field at a $45,000 cost. Current fixtures are 20 to 25 years old and deteriorating, it was stated. The committee wants one or two more tennis courts lighted, at a $10,000 cost.

Also in phase two, the committee wants Brentwood Park facelifted ($90,000) and the south slope of Sign Hill developed ($70,000.)

Five projects were placed in "third priority," including "as soon as possible" development of the Mazzanti lands as part of the Orange Memorial Park expansion, at a $200,000 cost.

Acquisition ($200,000) of Arroyo Park (Westborough Hole), at Westborough and Junipero Serra boulevards, is also suggested. The owner, San Mateo County, has given the city until 1975 to make a decision; after that, it will sell it to private developers.

When the tennis courts at Orange Avenue reach their maximum use, lighting of the tennis courts at Brentwood and Buri Buri parks is recommended.

The committee proposed development of the 6.85-acre Appian Way Park in Westborough ($220,000) and expanding Buri Buri Park ($110,000) by using the ribbon of land between the park and the new Westborough Boulevard extension. There is no urgency on Appian Way, the committeemen said, because of the "less than desirable weather conditions."

On the bottom of their list in Priority 4 are development of the two pieces of new park land on the north side of Westborough Boulevard extension: the Westborough Hole and Buri Buri Park.

The committee urged biking-hiking trails and plans to make sure that if the California Golf Club or the McLellan Orchid Nursery ever abandon their sites, they would be incorporated into the city park system. No plans or intention exist at present for abandoning these sites, it was asserted.

Truck Hauls Away Property

Thieves apparently used a truck to haul away several household items from the Moss Beach home of Elliot E. Overshiner Thursday on Sunshine Valley Road.

Sheriff's deputies who are investigating the burglary, report Mrs. Judith Ann Overshiner left the home at 12:15 p.m., and when she returned one hour later discovered the theft.

Fun New Sport -- Jumping Off Cliffs

Practitioners of an adrenalin-zapping sport jumped off an imposing cliff near Pacifica yesterday afternoon around 6 p.m. It was kite-flying with a difference.

Fritz Braunberger of Pacifica and Mike Greene of Southern California were indulging in "hang-gliding." The idea was to make it from the cliff to a baseball diamond in the town — far below and a half mile away — without prematurely cashing in on insurance policies (do the companies KNOW about this?).

The onshore wind was reasonably steady at 15 m.p.h. Greene got into the little swing that dangled from the huge batlike wing and sailed westward. He landed safely as planned, at the baseball field, among a crowd of curious Pacificans ("Look up in the sky. He's a bird — no . . .").

Greene, whos been doing this sort of thing for four months, brought a kite 18 feet long, with a 28-foot span. The poles are aluminum and the fabric high-quality dacron. The flight is controlled by a triangular bar that dangles next to the seat.

Says Braunberger, "A good flight can last up to six minutes."

SSF Confab On Airport

A conference between South San Francisco and San Francisco Airport officials over the airport expansion will be held July 25 at 7:30 at City Hall in South San Francisco.

It will be a public meeting.

Tom Berkins, deputy director of the airport, is expected to confer with the City Council.

Officials of South San Francisco — the only airport area city to have hired a noise consultant — have been concerned over added noise, air poilution, traffic congestion, increased housing needs and other side effects expected from the projected triplin[illegible] in the size of the airport.

Noonan as interim representative to the Colma Creek Advisory Committee, replacing Gale Dreisbach, the former city manager.

"If the county is going to pass the responsibility for improvements we want to be sure you had the maximum protection for the coming season," Noonan declared. The staff then devised a plan, with the help of Hull, which council has approved.

Councilman William Borba expressed concern that there is no consideration for the future in the interim plans and that the city could end up doing the same work twice. He said if the city is going to do this job it may as well get the whole thing done at once.

Councilman Patrick Ahern related that the city will have enough problems in diverting traffic off Linden Avenue.

Hull also asserted that by taking the bridges in logical order the Spruce Bridge, a concern of Borba's, would be done after Linden. This would mean it would not be done until sometime in April. To do both bridges at the same time would sever both of the north-south traffic arteries leaving only Orange Avenue and El Camino Real.

"You couldn't possibly, in my opinion, have two major arteries side by side severed," Hull responded to Borba's requests. He said this would constitute a "major traffic catastrophe."

Mayor Warren Steinkamp declared it is "incumbent upon us to proceed with this plan or one with equal capabilities that will give us protection against the rain." Hull reminded the council this project will have the capacity of the final project and that the ten per cent work loss is in erosion protection devices upstream.

pened to be in the station—quickly brought the fire under control. Captain Georgeson reported that the kitchen cabinets and refrigerator were apparently destroyed, and other parts of the kitchen were scorched, with minor smoke damage throughout the house.

Firemen did not know how the fire started, but theorize that it appeared to have originated from a cigarette thrown into a plastic basket. All three adults in the house smoke, Catain Georgeson reported.

Bowman was apparently staying with the Brandts for a few months after being released from a hospital, following treatment for an automobile accident, Captain Georgeson said. The Brandts have three small children, and with three additional children, had apparently left to go to the beach about an hour before the fire.

Bowman's hair and eyebrows were singed as he was telephoning the firemen, but he appeared to have been otherwise unscratched.

Ousted Daly City School Administors Fight for Jobs

Frank L. Greenwood and his former associate superintendent for business, Roger Barthuli, fired from their jobs as administrative heads of the Jefferson Elementary School District in dates in Superior Court last Wednesday demanding that they be reinstated.

Instead of complying with the demands, the school board majority that night voted to hire Oakland Attorney William R. Johnston to represent the district in litigation. A hearing is scheduled in Redwood City on July 27 at 9:30 a.m.

Johnston said he is now drafting charges against both Greenwood and Barthuli to support the board's action in dismissing the pair two weeks ago.

In their suit, both Greenwood and Barthuli said they faithfully followed their contracts and the board majority — Dorothy Adams, Beverly Forrester and David Parker — failed to live up to their contract with them.

As yet, no charges have been filed against either Greenwood or Barthuli, it was pointed out in the suit.

On July 12, 1973, Greenwood demanded, in a letter to Mrs. Adams, that the Board reinstate him as superintendent of the JESD under appropriate sections of the State Education Code (Sec. 938).

However, the board did not respond, it was explained.

The JESD board went into executive session to discuss the hiring of Johnston about 6:30 p.m., Wednesday.

Within minutes, both Trustees James Cranna and Edward Tomasello left the closed door meeting.

It was later explained by Dr. Vin Stratton and Acting Superintendent Keith Breon that a motion had been made by the two trustees to rehire Greenwood and Barthuli.

Failing this, they left the room, Stratton said.

Both Tomasello and Cranna also balked at recognizing Breon as acting district superintendent in authorizing him as a duly appointed agent for district.

Tomasello suggested the Board await the outcome of the lawsuit filed by Greenwood on July 27 before appointing Breon to act as an agent for the district.

But Chairwoman Mrs. Adams said there was a considerable time lapse between "now and the court hearing."

"We could always review (Breon's status) later," she said.

The law suit filed by Greenwood came as little surprise to district observers.

Greenwood himself had said he turned the issue over to his legal advisor — attorney William E. Brown — prior to his being ousted from his $29,000 a year job which he had held for the past nine years.

It was not clear what charges would be filed against the former administrators by Johnston.

The district invited the state audit team, led by senior auditor Robert Hamric, to be present at last night's meeting. State Audit Division Chief Al M. Loeb, however, in a letter dated July 11 to Barthuli, said Hamric's presence would "offer no material change" in the report's contents.

Loeb said the decision not to have the auditors present at the board meeting came from State Director of Finance Verne Orr.

Orr read the report, according to Loeb. "And supports my belief that since the report fully discusses the audit findings, makes appropriate recommendations and presents your board with the facts, further appearances by the audit staff offer no material change."

Youths in Shooting To Be Evaluated

Mark William Garcia and Edwin Olmos, two defendants in the gang fight shootings which claimed one life in Daly City last April 2, today were ordered to Vacaville fro 90-day psychiatric and medical evaluations.

The Vacaville reports will assist Superior Court Judge Gerald E. Hagan in determining their utlimate sentence.

Ronald Manuel de la Ross, 20, a third defendant, was sentenced by Ragan to one year in County Jail, and five years' probation.

De la Rosa, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty to being an accessory after the fact to manslaughter. Probation Officer Gerald Hilliard recommended that de la Rosa be committed to the California Youth Authority, but Defense Atty. Phrasel Shelton noted that such a sentence would violate his "plea bargain" with the district attorney.

Garcia, 18, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Kerry McDowell, 19, of Daly City.

Olmos, 20, pleaded guilty to two counts of assault with a deadly weapon.

Atty. James Niven told Ragan that the defendants "could very well have been the victims."

The shootings culminated what Daly City Police Sgt. John Kolbman called a "long-simmering disagreement between two youth groups."

The defendants initially had been charged with murder, but that charge was dropped when they pleaded to lesser crimes.

Battle Restaurant In Bruno

Two Colma cousins climaxed a day-long argument on dating propriety early Thursday in a bloody clash in a San Bruno restaurant that sent one man to the hospital and the other to jail.

Reported in critical condition in surgery with massive internal bleeding from a knife wound was Ismael Galvan Guzman, 20, of 418 B. St., Colma, according to police reports.

His cousin, Gabriel Guzman, 22, of 1560 Bryant St., Colma, was booked into San Bruno jail and charged with attempted murder, police said.

San Bruno Police Officer Ed Mueller said the two young men had fought earlier in the day about whether Gabriel Guzman ought to date Ismael Guzman's sister. According to Mueller, Ismael Guzman objected to that relationship.

Mueller said that at about 4 a.m. the two were seated in a booth at Lyon's Restaurant, 751 W. San Bruno Ave., where Ismael Guzman works as a dishwasher.

The officer said the two reportedly were apparently still discussing the dating arrangement when suddenly both jumped up and the victim was stabbed in the left side of his chest.

Officer Mueller said witnesses at the scene said a pocket knife, with about a two-inch blade, was used. Police, however, have been unable to come up with the weapon.

Mueller said that after the incident, Gabriel Guzman ran out of the restaurant and headed south on Camino Plaza on foot.

Seen running across El Camino Real, he was given chase by Sgt. Bill Rodgers, who chased Guzman to a carport of an apartment complex at the intersection of Green and Angus.

Mueller said Guzman was found lying under a car. No weapon was found, and police theorize it was discarded sometime during the chase.

Tax Rate Reduction In San Bruno

San Bruno residents will receive a property tax rate reduction of approximately 28 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for fiscal '73-'74.

City Manager Gerald Minford said the new tax rate, which will be presented to the council Monday night for approval, will drop approximately 93 cents. The present rate is $1.21.

The rate reduction, according to Minford, results in part from increases in new construction and additional sales taxes at Tanforan Shopping Center.

The council finished its review of the budget in a marathon session that started Thursday night and went until 2:30 a.m. Friday.

Minford and Finance Officer Bob Bodeman Friday were completing the figures to be presented at the Monday night meeting. If reduced 93 cents, it would mean taking $336,000 off property tax rolls.

Among the many aspects of the budget, ahe council approved the reorganization of combining city clerk and finance departments to create a new Department of Finance.

Also approved was an addition of a senior planner for the Planning Department which will free City Planner Jack Mulqueeney to work more closely as assistant to Minford.

The Chamber of Commerce was granted a base of $11,000 (based on one-per cent of gross sales tax) plus $1,000 for a San Bruno Shopping campaign and $2,000 for a joint city-chamber newsletter scheduled to be issued six times during the year.

The $1500 Minford had put in the budget for the purchase of coffee urns to keep city employes out of restaurants during coffee breaks was taken out of the budget.

Molesting Charge Told

San Bruno police Friday arrested John Ernest Garcia, 22, of 275 Station Ave., Daly City, on child molesting charges after he allegedly exposed himself to three small girls at a local playground.

Police charge Garcia walked onto the Rollingwood playground while three little girls were playing, asked questions concerning a dog and then engaged in the act.

He was arrested later by police following identification by the young victims.

DC Delays Vote on Redevelopment

The Daly City Planning Commission Thursday night to hold over for at least two more weeks any decision on a proposed redevelopment plan for the city.

Responding to pleas from attorney Charles Garry and other representatives of the Original Daly City Protective Association, the commission unanimously moved to table the issue until Aug. 2.

City Planner John Walker presented the commission with a lengthy amendment to the city's general plan during the brief meeting.

Attorney Garry said he had received the general plan changes only minutes before the meeting and had not had time to study the proposals made by Walker.

Emphasizing that he was "not trying to be antagonistic" Garry said he could see "no reasons for rushing into this thing."

"The redevelopment study has been going on for a long time," Garry said, adding "Time should not be of the essence."

Commissioner Edward O'Donnell agreed, and asked his fellow commissioners to table the matter for two weeks to provide time for study of Walker's proposals.

The Walker proposals would lay the groundwork for implementing redevelopment in the city.

O'Donnell made his motion to table the amendment after Leonard Brown, planning commissioner, moved to have the matter held over for one week. Brown's motion died for lack of second and was withdrawn.

Before making his motion, O'Donnell sought the advice of City Atty. Albert Polonsky who was attending a personnel hearing in the City Hall at the time.

O'Donnell told the overflow audience of 175 persons attending the session that under state law public hearings were not required.

The commission had devoted much time to this matter and while they encouraged input on the redevelopment subject the talks could not continue to drag, O'Donnell said.

Commissioner Alfred Banfield said that the issue had been before the planners for the past three months.

Banfield agreed with O'Donnell that further delays could be damaging to some people living in the proposed target area "who want to know what is going to happen there."

The zoning around eht target area — several blooks around the Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) station on Knowles Ave. — has been "frozen in recent months pending out come of the hearings.

Requests for establishing businesses, building shops and major modifications of structures have been denied by the city council — also the redeveloment agency.

Garry, after noting to the commission that he had been out of tte country for the past 11 months working on a legal case, said the proposal was complex "and even I don't understand some of the things said by Mr. Walker (in his proposal)."

Unlike previous meetings which at times became unruly the audience remained silent and let their representatives, Garry, co-chairman of the ODCPA, Conrad Pavellas, Legal Aid Society attorney Craig Scott and Rev. Hosey Spears, of the Second Baptist Church in Daly City, talk for them.

Major complaint of the representatives was the failure to get a copy of the amendment before them for study until shortly before the City Hall meeting.

Termite Control Cons 'Bug' Homes

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

Fear and the need to hurry are the chief persuaders of the "termite control" con man. He is able to victimize thousands of homeowners all over the United States because termites do present a real and ever-present danger to the homeowner, causing millions of dollars damage each year in the United States. It is believed that many of those who are swindled are deceived again and again because they remain unaware of the fact that they were "bugged" into the service by a two-legged pest.

Termite-riddled structures frequently are plagued with sagging doors, cracked walls, doors and windows that are out of line. Occasionally, floors have given way under heavy weights, such as a piano or refrigerator, after supporting timbers have been weakened by termites feeding on the structural parts of a house.

However, it is rare that a house will collapse from the most serious termite damage. The story of an entire house collapsing is a scare tactic used by the unscrupulous and unethical into getting a homeowner to sign a contract before he has had time to have second thoughts.

Termite control should be considered as another repair that may be necessary to maintain property in sound structural condition and it should be purchased with the same care and discrimination that is used in the purchase of any other service for property.

As termite damage usually occurs in the heavy structural timbers the repairing is a job for experts. Many householders are sufficiently skilled to do minor repair jobs but few homeowners have the know how to cope with termite infestation.

Effective control comes with the work of a responsible termite extermination company. As in every industry there is a fringe element of the unethical, incompetent or downright dishonest firm.

Do not allow yourselves to be scare-rushed into signing before you have made sure that you are dealing with a reliable firm with an established place in business. "Before you invest — Investigate," is the advice of the Better Business Bureau.

Daly City Rest Home Purchased

The Cerro Gardens Convalescent Hospital in Daly City has been sold and the State Bureau of Licensing & Certification has issued a license to the new owner to operate and accept patients at that facility, it was reported last Tuesday.

According to John Gellmann, new executive administrator, the hospital was purchased from Tri-Med Industries, Seattle, Wash., Friday, July 14.

The new owner is the St. Francis Heights Convalescent Hospital Corp. which owns and operates the facility of the same name immediately adjacent to Cerro Gardens.

The new owners are concerned about the well-being and peace of mind of the current patients. In statements to the patients and their families Tuesday, Gellmann reassured them "that the same high level of care given in our other facilities is being given here."

The 239-bed steel and concrete structure at 99 Escuela in Daly City will serve private, as well as Medicare and Medical patients without regard to race, color, creed or country of origin.

In addition to St. Francis Heights Convalescent Hospital, the Gellmanns also operate and are part-owners of Brookside Convalescent Hospital at 2620 Flores in San Mateo.

Cow Palace Names PR

Alesandro Baccari and Associates, a San Francisco public relations research and advertising firm has been selected to represent the Cow Palace in Daly City, the Bay Area's largest public event facility, it has been announced by Lex Connelly, Cow Palace manager.

Baccari and Associates were chosen by a public relations committee of the Cow Palace Board of directors after a review of presentations by a number of leading Bay Area PR firms.

Responsibilities include both public relations and advertising for the Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo in October; the Junior Grand National in April; and a year-round campaign to increase public awareness of the Cow Palace as a well-equipped and convenient showplace for all kinds of entertainment events.

It has 315,470 feet of indoor exhibit space, modern seating for 14,738 spectators and paved, lighted parking for 6,500 cars.

An agency of the state, the Cow Palace is administered under the Department of Agriculture, Division of Fairs and Expositions.

Visitor Is Raped

A 24-year-old Salt Lake City woman was raped Thursday in a parking garage at San Francisco International Airport.

Sheriff's deputies reported the victim was sitting in her auto on the fifth level of the parking garage at 6:45 p.m. when a man opened the driver's door and began choking her. The woman, according to deputies then was raped.

The rapist is described between 25 and 30 years old, about six-feet tall with a powerful build. The man fled from the scene after the owner of an auto parked next to the victim's auto walked into the area and heard the victim screaming.

The victim was taken to Peninsula Hospital where she was treated and released.

Sheriff's deputies combed the airport area in an unsuccessful effort to apprehend the rapist.

DC Denies Crocker, BART Pacts

Charges made by two San Mateo County Legal Aid Society attorneys Thursday that the city of Daly City had made agreements concerning redevelopment with the Crocker Land Co. and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District were refuted Friday.

City Mgr. David Rowe, upon hearing allegations that Daly City had conducted "lengthy negotiations" with Crocker concerning developments near the BART station, said the only talks the city has had with Crocker on developments centered around the Serramonte subdivision.

And the only agreements rached with BART was in February 1970 on the design and siting of the station on Knowles Ave. Next followed bitter debate between the city and BART over their condemnation of some 145 homes in the area.

Again, in September 1972, BART and the city agreed to expand the parking garage facility at the rapid transit station.

"Other than that we have never negotiated with Crocker or BART on any development in Daly City," Rowe said.

He denied any city representative had discussed development of the "target area" around the BART station with Crocker or BART officials.

"If we were that cozy with Crocker, as the Legal Aid attorneys charge, how come Crocker pushed for annexation to Brisbane and not to us?" Rowe countered.

The dispute started some two weeks ago with a lengthy condemnation of redevelopment in Daly City by John Denton. In Denton's 34-page report it was implied that Daly City was engaging in a "gameplan" to redevelop certain portions of the city.

The Denton Report, presented to the city's Planning Commission at its June meeting, was followed by a rebuttal from Redevelopment Agency consultant Russell Hoss, who pointed out alleged discrepancies in Denton's report.

Hoss, later admitting, "I used a poor choice of words in the report." He said "the negotiations with both the BART and Crocker Land authorities were both long and arduous and those agreements htat have been reached ... have only been accomplished with a great deal of effort."

The rebuttal was followed by a press release from attorneys Craig Scott and Thomas R. Adams, who are representing certain property owners in the affected area.

It charged the city with "the first written admission ... that lengthy negotiations have been conducted between the city and Crocker Land authorities."

The attorneys asked that the Planning Commission delay all action on any redevelopment proposal until the matter had been fully aired.

"The Original Daly City Protective Assn. has long suggested that there are important links between the Daly City BART station, Crocker's proposals to development of San Bruno Mountain, and redevelopment in Original Daly City," the attorneys charged.

"The city's statements provide the first official admission that some sort of relationship does exist between the city, BART and Crocker," they said.

Crocker's land manager, Frank Calton, hand-delivered an immediate denial to the statements made by Craig and Adams.

Bruno Street Improvement Plan Gains

It's been seven days since merchants and property owners along San Bruno's downtown San Mateo Avenue met to contemplate the $500,000 street improvement plan they are being asked to approve and partially finance.

The physical condition of the street still hasn't changed. But judging from the large turnout at the meeting, and subsequent contacts being made with those who could not attend the meeting, many attitudes toward the renovation has changed to the favorable side.

At the meeting, approximately 40 of the persons representing the more than 100 stores on the street signed their approval to the proposal that will (hopefully) have the city pay half the tab and finance the other half.

In the past days it has been a case of meeting with as many merchants and property owners as possible to fill a petition with names of those wanting the beautification and improvements to proceed.

Assuming the majority of merchants and property owners agree to the plan and it appears they will — although cautious optimism is the by-word — the petitions will be presented to the city council to set the wheels in motion for establishing an assessment district and other requirements to move fast toward completion.

Although City Manager Gerald Minford at the Wednesday night meeting could not speak for the council he said, "this program is very realistic. The financing is as good as any you'll see. Previous plans have been unrealistic in terms of cost."

He reiterated what those on the street already know—"San Mateo Avenue is not going to go away. What it becomes depends on what is done with it."

Minford again reminded that the city will have to replace battered water lines under the street regardless. Approximately half the $500,000 beautification cost is for street work, and will be paid for with city gas tax monies, assuming the council agrees with the proposal. There has been no indication the council will not go along with the plan.

"The time and opportunity to do it (both tear up the street and upgrade and beautify it) is right now," said Minford.

The assessment has been worked out so that it is very minimal, and it will be added to the city's business license tax. In this way, according to Minford, should a businessman decide to leave, a new merchant would know that it would be his responsibility to make these monthly payments until the project is paid off in ten years.

Josh Maule III, who has been in on the plan since its inception, and has since been faced with filling a vacated store, predicted "this is the last opportunity. It is a program that can be funded, a program we can support," he added.

One sore spot that has been aired in the past was brought up again Wednesday night. What about the CBD (central business district)?

The CBD has been challenged as being a reason so many stores are empty. Promoters of the beautification say it is necessary to strive for the retail flavor. They believe the beautification project, if approved, would be the impetus to bring in more retail merchants, and then, apparently, everyone would be happy.

Should such not be the case, those wanting to eliminate the CBD were promised Wednesday night that if the project is approved and the stores didn't fill with retail outlets the only alternative would be to eliminate the CBD.

"If this (beautification) project does not fly," said Minford, "I cannot visualize any project flying."

Practically all at the meeting nodded agreement.

Library Hours Review

County Manager M. D. Tarshes says he is reviewing the edict restricting hours and services of county branch Libraries in view of the recent report that a higher than anticipated assessed valuation may provide necessary funds to maintain the current level of operation.

He noted this to the Board of Supervisors after Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald reported that there have been many letters of protest received from cities receiving county library service, and from individuals, that anticipated cutbacks in financing would mean a curtailing of library functions through shorter hours and higher fines.

Tarshes said that, in view of the higher assessed valuation, which would bring in more tax revenue, a review may call for a recommended revision in the cutback in library services.

The county manager stated that he may have a recommendation in the matter to the board "fairly soon."

IRC Asks For Aid

Painting a picture of needed financial assistance for the low-income and "disadvantaged" of the community, a spokesman for the San Bruno-South San Francisco Information and Referral Center last week asked San Bruno officials for $2,205 in aid for fiscal 1973-74.

Arthur Elliot, identifying himself as "a voluntary consultant for the last three years" for the center, said the recent dismantling of the Office of Economic Opportunity has placed an added burden because of "not knowing where future dollars will come from."

According to Elliot, the South San Francisco City Council has been "favorable in their consideration." The amount requested of that city was $33,269, according to Elliot.

He said that in 1972, the center served approximately 2,429 persons from South San Francisco and 151 from San Bruno.

The budget breakdown for the center for 1973-74 year showed $9,547.20 for salary for a director. Other salaries included $7,092 for an organizer-job developer; $5,512 for an organizer trainee and a similar amount for a secretary receptionist.

Fringe benefits, rent and utilities, travel, supplies, petty cash and equipment make up the remainder of the total $35,474 center budget.

Elliot's report noted that there are presently 250 applications of "qualified workers ready to fill vacancies."

Although no decision was made, Councilman Tony Governale told Elliot that he "favored the concept last year, and I still favor the concept."

In other budget matters, the council turned down flat a request from the California Roadside Council, seeking $40 for membership. The membership would allow for receipt of information relevant to roadside signs, according to City Manager Gerald Minford.

Taken under advisement was a request from the San Mateo County Safety Council for $800 in support of its activities in reducing accidents.

The budget request of the city's Chamber of Commerce was not presented because Chamber Manager Gerald Chandler was out of town, according to Minford.

In the audience at the Monday night session were senior citizen representatives in support of their request for improvements at the city's War Memorial Building.

Slide Bypass Start May Be Expedited

There is hope that construction of the proposed Devil's Slide bypass on Cabrillo Highway will be speeded up by separating that section of the improvement from the total project.

This was the word to the County Board of Supervisors last Tuesday from Deputy District Attorney James A. Aiello.

A U.S. District Court injunction was obtained by the Sierra Club late last year halting award of a contract for widening of the highway from the south Pacifica city limits to a point near the Half Moon Bay Airport on the basis that an environmental impact statement had not been filed by the state.

Because of its concern for the dangers encountered by motorists on the highway in the constantly sliding, narrow and curvy Devil's Slide area, the county sought to intervene in the court battle on the side of the state and seek an overturn of the injunction delaying construction of the pypass.

Aiello reported that the court has denied the county intervention, but has allowed the county to participate as "amicus curiae" (friend of the court). The county may be permitted direct intervention at a later date if facts raised in the court action so warrant, in the opinion of the judge, Aiello said in the report to the Board of Supervisors.

Also, Aiello, noted, the court has permitted the state to reword its required environmental impact statement so that it would apply only to the Devil's Slide area of the highway and not to proposed improvements south of the area.

Following filing of the court action and issuance of the injunction, the State Division of Highways indicated that scheduled funding for the project would be diverted elsewhere and that it would be three to five years before construction could be started.

However, Aiello says, with the modification granted by the court for the environmental impact statement to encompass only the Devil's Slide area for widening to an eventually six lanes, "There is hope that the ... statement might issue within the next 16 months."

Clipping Leads to Arrest

Carrying a newspaper clipping of the near-fatal July 9 attempted robbery of a Millbrae pizza parlor led to the arrest of a San Francisco man Friday.

Timothy E. Norman 22, will be charged, police said, with armed robbery and possibly assault with a deadly weapon for assertedly gunning down Jamts Darryl Barnett of San Mateo.

Barnett was hit once in the thigh with a shotgun blast and twice in the abdomen with pistol fire. He is in Peninsula Hospital in "serious" condition.

Millbrae Police Sgt. Ronald Caine said Norman was arrested by San Francisco police after a shoot-out in an attempted liquor store hold-up.

When he was taken to San Francisco General Hospital, ambulance attendants found in his wallet a newspaper clipping describing the attempted robbery and shoot-out at Millbrae's Pizza Hut, 160 North El Camino Real.

"Would you believe that?" asked Sergeant Caine. "The ambulance attendants referred it to the San Francisco police and, naturally, they called me."

He said Norman would not be appearing in court in San Mateo County "for some time" because he "tried to shoot it out with a San Francisco officer and lost" and has "one shoulder wound and two in the legs."

San Francisco police are to charge Norman with armed robbery and assault on a police officer with a deadly weapon, Caine was told.

Meanwhile, Sergeant Caine is looking for the second man who was involved in the July 9 Millbrae holdup try.

"I'm not satisfied with half a cake," he said. "I want the whole thing."

The man he is seeking, he said, is the one who used a shotgun when Barnett interferred with the Pizza Hut holdup. While one man fired two pistol shots, he said, the other let go a shotgun blast inside the fast-food shop.

DC Juniors Plan a Trip

The Daly City Junior Teen Clubs will travel to Blackberry Farm in Cupertino Saturday for a day of picnicking and swimming at this favorite spot in the hills near San Jose.

Buses will pick up members and their guests beteen 9 and 9:15 a.m. at Westmoor Park, Skyline School, War Memorial Community Center and Midway School. Approximate return time is 5:30 p.m.

The cost for members is $2.25 and guests $2.75. This includes admission to Blackberry Farm, transportation and insurance. Permission slips must be turned in with money to teen advisors or the recreation office, 134 Hillside Boulevard on or before 5 p.m. Thursday.

Big Night for The Casualiers

The Casualiers Junior Teen Club of Comla Intermediate School, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, as planned an evening of fun activities and games for junior teens at the War Memorial Community Center Friday from 7 to 10 p.m.

The evening will feature a record dance and co-rec volleyball game, plus ping pong, basketball and a special movie featuring the co-rec softball team action in the recent Junior Teen Softball Tourney.

Deborah Ann Bocci Is Wed

Honeymooning in Hawaii are Deborah Ann Bocci and Dennis Armando Gori who were married Saturday afternoon at Holy Angels Church in Colma.

The 3 p.m. ceremony was conducted by Rev. John Lo Schiavo and was followed by a reception at the Airport Marina Hotel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bocci of Colma. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Gori of San Leandro.

For her wedding, Deborah chose a gown of white organza trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace and pearls and styled with an Empire bodice, high neckline, long sleeves, and an A-line skirt and a train.

Susan Heintz was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Peg Murphy, Cynthia Bocci and Marie Strand. They were dressed alike in yellow dotted swiss dresses with self-fabric ruffles, crochet lace insets, scoop necklines and fitted bodices.

Karen and Laura Schaefer, the junior bridesmaids, wore white dotted swiss frocks trimmed in yellow.

Gregory Pape was Dennis' best man. Ushering duties were shared by Thomas Bocci III and J. Randolph Bocci, brothers of the bride, and Stephan Maher and Stephan Splendorio.

Deborah is also the sister of Jeffrey Bocci. She was graduated from the University of San Francisco and teaches girls' physical education at Southwood Junior High School in South San Francisco.

Dennis was graduated from St. Mary's College and teaches at Rancho Milpitas Junior High School in Milpitas.

The couple will live in San Carlos.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Looking back through these columns for the last month or so it seems we've been doing a lot of cookie, bread and cake baking. Now, no one is more in favor of such activities than I but I think it's time we concentrate on such things as meat and vegetables.

GOLDEN MEATBALL CASSEROLE

- 1 pound ground beef
- ½ cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tableSpoons margarine
- 2 cups cooked rice
- 1 cup carrot slices, thinly sliced
- ½ pound pasturized Process Cheese spread, cubed
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup chopped onion

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Combine the one pound beef, one-half cup bread crumbs, one egg and one teaspoon salt; mix lightly. Shape into 12 meatballs; brown in the two tablespoons margarine. Combine the meatballs with the two cups carrots, half pound cheese cubes, one-half cup green pepper and half cup milk and one-fourth chopped onion; mix lightly. Spoon into 11-by-7-inch baking dish. Cover; bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Four to six servings.

A different and delicious way to serve hot dogs and potato salad sounds interesting, doesn't it?

FRANKS 'N TATER DUO

- 3 medium potatoes, cooked, drained
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- ¼ cup finely chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons green onion slices
- 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
- ¼ cup salad dressing
- Salt and pepper
- 1 pound frankfurters, split lenghtwise

Peel, cook and drain the three medium potatoes. Mash, add two hard-cooked eggs, one-fourth cup celery, two tablespoons green onion slices, two tablespoons sweet pickle and fourth cup salad dressing; mix lightly. Season to taste. Place the split frankfurters in baking pan, top with potato salad and bake in 400-degree oven for 20 minutes. Four to five servings.

Ground beef squares topped with hot seasoned mashed potatoes makes an attractive entree.

BEEF SQUARES WITH POTATO TOPPING

- 1½ pounds ground beef
- ½ cup chili sauce or catsup
- 1 cup soft whole wheat bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups hot seasoned mashed potatoes

Combine the one and one-half pounds ground beef, one-half cup catsup, one cup bread crumbs, one tablespoon onion, one egg, one teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Mix thoroughly. Pack in 7-by-11-inch baking pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Drain.

Cut in 6 squares and place one-third cup potatoes on each square. Place under broiler just long enough to brown potatoes.

Girl Scouting

MRS. CAROL KLATT, Day Camp Director for "Sail to the South Seas," the Daly City Girl Scout event scheduled for early August, announces a full central core staff.

MRS. CAROLE ANN SCOTT will be assistant camp director with Mrs. Elaine McDowell in charge of program. Mrs. Virginia Rusting will assist Mrs. McDowell.

Shirley Figone will be serving her first term as business manager for the wider challenge camp which this year will explore the Southern Seas within the confines of San Bruno's Junipera Serra Park.

SENIORS serving in units include Karen Kjeldgaard, Laura Ridge, Sue Scaduto, Jane Stewart and Debbie Swain.

CADETTES serving as aides include Leslie Schwarzbach, Vicky Morino, Ellen Ridge, Debbie Klatt, Paulette Young, Laura Ridge, Sandra Penny, Kitty Noonan, Leanda Medina, Debbie Rodriguez, Patrice Bender, Laura Tschirgi, Cheryl Figone and Debbie Thruman.

CITIZEN OF THE DAY honors for a local Girl Scout adult were recently announced by Council Radio Representative Mrs. Roz Morino.

The Northern San Mateo County Field Coordinator Mrs. Jeanne Kennaugh, was cited for "devoted service to the Girl Scouts of America" by KABL music in their "citizen of the day" series.

FEATURED four times throughout her "day," Daly City's Mrs. Kennaugh also received a certificate of honor signed by Peter H. Starr, president of KABL Music.

CADETTES - IN - TRAINING for the Daly City Day Camp will include Diane Ridge, Maria Vidal, Jill Gibson, Julie Castellicci, Karen Dale, Leona Connolly, Kathy Chiappari and Shelly Morris.

Diana Law, Esther Espina, Michelle Scott, Nicke Malalekin, Karen Schwarzbach, Catherine Winters, Monica Berning, Darlene Rusting, April Brooks and Joan Unmacht will be led by Mesdames Mary Ann Dale, Norene Thurman and Grace Winters.

AN INNOVATIVE PROGRAM for these Cadettes in Training has evolved from a serious study of qualities needed in leadership by the Daly City Girl Scout Camp Committee, coordinated by Mrs. Dale.

CAMP COMMITTEE members, responsible for day camp, the one week Sierra camp, camporees and jamborees of Daly City Scouts include Mesdames Donna Barnes, Isabel Hidzick, Carol Klatt, Elaine McDowell, Carole Ann Scott and Grace Winters.

This year, the new Cadettes-in-training unit will join with more than 100 local girls — Scouts and non-Scouts — and more than 20 adults to explore the cultures of the "South Seas," in a Scouting "Journey to Awareness" learning experience.

YOU CAN FIGHT CITY HALL — Ten years ago Millbrae residents of Murchison Drive battled with City Hall to prevent construction of three 10-story tower apartment buildings atop the hill behind their homes. More recently they battled again to force a group of three-story buildings back away from the brow of the hill, where they might shadow the lower homes. Now, with construction under way, a view from Vallejo Drive shows a massive wall of buildings under construction, while a view from Murchison show the apartments blending into the eucalyptus trees along Skyline in the background. It is not just the mothers of school children who find they need church groups to help them with their spiritual growth — it is women of all ages and marital status and so, in an effort to serve the largest number of people possible, that the Holy Angels Women's Guild has opened its membership to all women residing within the parish.

According to Mrs. John Lagomarsino, publicity chairman for the guild, the primary goal of the guild is to promote the spiritual growth of all affiliated with the organization. Hopefully, by enriching the lives of the more than 200 members, the guild will be a workable unit of the type that can then move to further the spiritual and material growth of the parish, the school and the entire community, Mrs. Lagomarsino explained.

FOUNDED in 1950, in the days when Daly City and Colma were just beginning to stir and show signs of beginning to grow into the large residential centers they now have become, Mrs. Joseph Garibaldi guided it through the organizing era and watched as new faces began to outnumber the members who hailed from "old Daly City families."

Today the parish has grown to undreamed of size, been split to form a portion of the new St. Andrew's community and, following the division, reorganized itself so it maintains its position as one of the major parishes on the North Peninsula.

MRS. GEORGE SIGIGIE, newly elected president of the guild, is a member with a long record of service and dedication. For the past seven years Mrs. Sigigie has been a third grade teacher in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine program. She is a licensed day care mother and still has found time to be the chairman of the parish's rummage sale, do the guild's publicity and chair a sew and show luncheon. One year she was chairman of the Christmas Boutique and on another occasion she worked as "Fisher" in the parent educators C.C.D. program. In addition, at varying times she has served as the assistant girls' coach and worked on the refreshment, fashion show and festival committees.

During the 1973-74 year she will work with Mrs. Patrick Callaghy, vice president; Mrs. Dominic Sumina, treasurer; Mrs. Urbano Maffei Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Bugler, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Raymond Thompson, membership chairman.

THE GUILD meets the first Wednesday of each month to tend to administrative affairs and, on occasion, to hear speakers who are expert on a subject important to the majority of members.

Annually the guild involves itself in four major fund-raising tasks — a rummage sale, parish social, Christmas boutique and breakfast following the guild's Sunday communion service. All events are staged to benefit programs within the parish.

According to Mrs. Lagomarsino, the most obvious development within the guild has been a growing sense of unity. New faces have been appearing and new and old members have shown a desire to work

Drive Opens

Garry Bieringer, North County Democratic Association registration chairman, is looking for 9,600 disenchanted Democrats on the North Peninsula.

Bieringer recently announced plans to start a voter registration drive starting with Daly City. "We found that between 20 to 40 per cent of the registered Democrats in Daly City alone didn't vote last November," he stated. "Many people may have moved, but those that are still living at the same address, lost the right to vote.

Registered voters in North San Mateo County who would like to help in the drive may call Bieringer. Voters in South San Francisco may call Mrs. Pat Wally.

Your job is beneath you.

Once you're above it all. Living within your means. At Stonegate Townhomes. High on a natural hillside. But still at the center of major commute routes to San Francisco and the Peninsula.

At Stonegate Townhomes, where the workaday world slips away easily. And you can forget the daily pressures as you take in the view. Or step out to dinner on your terrace or balcony. And relax in the comforts of your own home.

At Stonegate. Above it all. But in easy reach of all major working centers in the Bay Area.

2 bedroom, 1½ bath and 3 bedroom, 2½ bath townhomes with fireplace from $35,500. Conventional financing—as low as 5% down.

From Bayshore Fwy. take Grand Ave. South S.F. exit to Chestnut, turn right. From Hwy. 280, take Westborough east to Chestnut. Turn right at Hillside Blvd. to Stonegate Drive. Follow signs to office of Walker & Lee, Inc., exclusive sales agents. Phone: 873-6820.

NOT SO ANCIENT MARINERS—San Mateo County Fiesta Dream Girl Pauline Schmidt, left, and her court admire the Chrysler Sport Satellite to be given away at this year's San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, July 30 to August 11. Pine Mountain Lake Resort Area, sponsors of the drawing, also will award a 12-foot Aqua Catamaran and ten weekends at Pine Mountain Lake. Tickets are available at the Fair or at Thor Thorstenson Marine in Burlingame, who are providing the boats. The drawing will be the last day of the fair, Saturday, August 11. Pictured with Pauline are, left to right, Lauren Fauro, Miss Redwood City; Sue Zuckerbrot, Miss South San Francisco; Linda Rainey, Miss Millbrae; Mardi Boles, Miss San Carlos; Elaine Bule, Miss San Bruno; Debbie Thompson, Miss Daly City; Paula Capelli, Miss Belmont; and Lyn Patterson, Miss San Mateo. In front are Beverly Keeling, Miss Burlingame; Hillarie Allison, Miss Foster City; and Megan Hill, Miss Menlo-Atherton.

Dance Award To DC Girl

Miss Michelle Frenkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frenkel, has been selected as the recipient of the 1973 Summer Dance Award by the San Francisco School of Ballet.

Michelle was selected from a group of approximately 40 dancers which comprise the Daly City Civic Ballet under the direction of Miss Diane Roberts. A representative of the San Francisco School of Ballet attended rehearsals and personally selected Miss Frenkel.

Michelle is ten years old and a student at Christopher Columbus School. She has participated in the recreational dance program for two years and is looking forward to the six-week program with the well-known ballet school, under the direction of Harold Christensen.

The civic ballet is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department and annual fund raising projects finance the annual winter ballet and the summer dance award. The civic ballet will be featured in the summer production August 22 at the War Memorial Community Center.

together to make all efforts successful.

LADIES residing in the Colma area who feel they could contribute enthusiasm and energy to the guild are asked to come to the September meeting in the parish hall and sign up for guild membership.

Mrs. Lagomarsino emphasized that the guild is not a P-TA and women without children will find the program as interesting and as rewarding as women with families.

Meetings are always on the first Wednesday of each month. If you would like more information call Mrs. Sigigie or retiring president Mrs. Conrad Reich or Mrs. Lagomarsino.

DC Scouts At Camp

Troop 360, Boy Scouts of America, Daly City, spend the second full week of July in the Russian River area at Camp Royaneh. Swimming, scoutcraft archery, rifle firing and rowing instruction was conducted daily for the many troops from the Bay Area. This troop is sponsored by St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City for boys of all faiths.

Merit badges in rifle, rowing, archery, conservation, sports and reading were awarded Michael Fedyna at the troop honor court held on the last day of the camp. Kurt Larcher won the swimming merit badge, received the Mile Swim award and won a special National Rifle Association marksmanship award. Ricardo Ferrer won the rifle merit badge and received confirmation of his earlier awards of the first aid merit badge, tenderfoot rank and four skill awards. Robert Fedyna, acting senior patrol leader on loan from another troop, won the rifle and archery merit badges. Sammy Baca received tederfoot rank and won two skill awards. Vincent Comaroto advanced to tenderfoot rank. Eric Luz won one skill ward in first aid. Michael Fedyna, Cougar Patrol Leader and Martin Anderson, assistant scoutmaster, were inducted into the Order of the Arrow, national scout honor society.

Harbor District Cities Seek to Deannex

Spokesmen for cities seeking to de-annex from the San Mateo County Harbor District said yesterday at a hearing before the County Local Agency Formation Commission that there are better ways to spend their residents' tax monies than to invest in a harbor project which only a tiny majority of the population will use.

For 7½ hours the commission heard testimony before Chairman Gerald F. Day finally adjourned the session and continued the hearing to LAFCO's August 22 meeting.

It was an hour before the hearing itself even got under way as James M. Dennis, attorney for the harbor district, challenged the commission's jurisdiction to act on the matter.

He claimed that LAFCO has failed to establish basic guidelines for evaluation of the $12 million Pillar Point Harbor improvement project contemplated by the district.

"Failure to develop (the harbor) may be as bad as developing," the attorney said.

Also, Dennis contended, there had not been sufficient notice given that yesterday's hearing was to be held.

Defenders of the harbor district also argued that the move to de-annex was fostered by conservationists who want to destroy the district.

All of Dennis' objections were overruled by Chief Civil Deputy Dist. Atty. L. M. Summey, legal advisor to the board.

"LAFCO has complied with the law and has jurisdiction to hear the matter," Summey informed the commission.

With that established, the verbal war was on, as a line of speakers for the cities of Portola Valley, Menlo Park, Atherton, Millbrae and the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District, all of which are seeking to de-annex from the harbor district, offered their pleadings.

Mrs. Eleanor Boushey, Mayor of Portola Valley, stating she feels a "responsibility to watch the taxes of the city," claimed that only a "few wealthy yachtsmen" would use the harbor . . . "no one from Portola Valley . . . it's not fair to the taxpayer."

She charged that the harbor district has embarked on "a cavalier approach to spending of public funds. We have to compare the use of taxpayers' money (for the project) in comparison with other uses. This will not be self-sustaining, there will be a need for taxpayer subsidy. There is no common sense involved in the project."

Menlo Park City Manager Michael Bedwell followed in the same vein claiming, "there is a distortion of priorities where public money is spent. I see little benefit to Menlo Park. We have higher priorities in view of Senate Bill 90 (which prohibits property tax rate increases)."

"Back off from Menlo Park, or weigh anchor," the manager stated. It is a question of equity — should a city of 26,000 be asked to subsidize a project with one-half the users from outside the county? The Menlo Park Council action was unanimous and adamant."

Woodside Mayor Nat Landes, noting that Woodside was one of the few communities voting for dissolution of the harbor district in 1970 when county residents voted against dissolution, said his city council is "generally opposed to all special districts."

"There is an inability to control spending," he claimed. "It (the harbor district) would not provide a service needed by the community."

Kendall Simmons, manager of the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District, said benefits would be minimal.

"We have very few yachts in East Palo Alto," he stated. "Our money can be used for other, more beneficial purposes."

Doug Dawson, assistant city manager of Millbrae, said the cost of the harbor district to the taxpayers would be "disproportionate to the benefits derived therefrom."

Harry Turner, of Menlo Park, a spokesman for the Committee for Green Foothills, claimed that only one-half of one per cent of the county population is interested in using the Pillar Point Harbor.

Refuting harbor district defenders that there will be no need for the current 3¼-cent per $100 of assessed valuation tax rate imposed by the district after five years, when the proposed improvement project is completed, Turner contended the district "will need taxpayer subsidy to function."

He maintained that the district, which imposes a county-wide tax, is confined to one area as compared to county-wide recreation.

Dennis, speaking from a 15-page prepared statement, led the opposition to de-annexation from the district, charging that opposition "to destroy the tax base of the district and defeat the project" originated with conservation groups, principally the Sierra Club and the Committee for Green Foothills.

Campbell Man Dies On Slide

A Campbell man was killed when his car plunged over an embankment in the Devil's Slide area of Cabrillo Highway, apparently sometime Friday night.

However, the body of Roy B. Lorenz, 46, was not discovered until about 3:30 p.m. Saturday when a passerby spotted the victim's wrecked car some 200 feet over the side of the highway two miles north of Second Street in Montara.

Highway Patrolman B. A. Klein reported that Lorenz' body was on the ground 40 feet from the car, which was on a lodge 100 feet above the ocean.

The officer said that the car had been southbound when, for some unknown reason, it swerved over the roadway and over a three-foot embankment and down the ledge, coming to a rest on its side.

The headlight switch was on, indicating that the mishap occurred during the nighttime hours.

2 Arrested After Chase

Two young men were arrested late Wednesday in Burlingame after a "stolen car chase" almost occurred on Bayshore Freeway.

California Highway Patrol Officer William Blackburn reported he had seen the black and silver Mercedes speed southward from the Millbrae Avenue overpass just after 6 p.m., and started to give chase.

By the time he got in position, however, the expensive car had been involved in a minor hit and run collision, and had gone off the road.

Two men were running from it, said Blackburn, and he radioed for help.

Burlingame police arrested Klaus D. Riemann, 20, 840 El Camino Real, Millbrae, and Arvid G. Hedlund, 21, of Connecticut. Riemann was booked at San Mateo County Jail on charges of driving a stolen car and driving while drunk. Hedlund was charged with participating in an auto theft.

Police said the car is owned by Marguerite Harpis, 1315 Magnolia Ave., Millbrae.

New Phone Facility Open

A new facility that will speed-up the completion of operator-handled long distance phone calls has been opened by Pacific Telephone Co. in Pacifica.

Called a Traffic Service Position System (TSPS) building, the facility can currently handle 6,300 calls a day. When the facility is up to full strength, it will be processing 40,000 calls a day, according to the company.

The building features 124 consoles in place of the conventional switchboard that give operators push-button controls as well as automatic readouts of phone numbers.

The consoles allow operators to complete long distance calls 40 per cent faster than in switchboard operations, according to a spokesman.

Day Care Letter Campaign

Pacifican Wants the Credit

By DUANE SANDUL

A Pacifica day care operator today insisted she's the one who organized the letter drive to the county manager regarding new regulations, and not the social service workers, who were accused by Dr. George Pickett, director of the County Public Health and Welfare Department of "manipulating" the operators.

Mrs. Eva Windrick, president of the Pacifica Association of Day Care Home Mothers, contends she rallied 40 or more families after Pacifica Fire Marshal Kenneth Curtis explained the details of new fire regulations governing day care and foster homes.

But Dr. Pickett today insisted that social service workers "had to be involved in some manner or another with Mrs. Windrick and others."

Pickett, in a recent interview, charged some social service workers with "using scare tactics" to induce persons to write letters of protest to County Manager M. D. Tarshes.

In addition to the fire regulation rules, imposed by state legislation, Dr. Pickett simultaneously implemented a sanitation inspection by a county "environmental team."

But Mrs. Windrick says she has not talked with "our social service workers for months."

She deplored what she said "must be intolerable working conditions" for the social service workers in light of the allegations brought against them by Dr. Pickett.

"They're being prosecuted for something I've done," Mrs. Windrick said.

But Dr. Pickett said he could obtain evidence to substantiate his claim. "But I just don't like to get involved with something like that. I prefer to take it up with our workers."

"The letters pretty much read the same," Dr. Pickett said, "and to imply that some half-baked idiot has come up with some half-cocked scheme (the regulations), who's going to leave them with that impression? My contention is that it's the social service workers."

Dr. Picket dismisses the possibility that the letters were sparked only by a conversation with a fire marshal because of their contents, some of which he says is outside the scope of information from a fire marshal.

Pickett offered an example of how a social service worker may have induced an operator:

"Let's say the operator says this (the new regulations) is the most insane thing I've ever heard, whose crazy idea is this? If the social worker says 'Dr. Pickett,' and no more, they're either deliberately withholding information, or they don't know.

"If they don't know, then supervisors are at fault for not relaying the information, and I think it's a little bit of both."

Dr. Pickett maintains that the social service workers have been reluctant about the new regulations because of a fear that they will result in finding fewer homes for day care and foster children.

"The letters indicate that the persons don't fully understand the issue, but yet contained enough information that they had asked some questions, or someone told them," Dr. Pickett said.

He added that he apologized to social service supervisors "for losing my temper" in an interview with The Times last Friday, during which Pickett charged that workers didn't have the courage to come through him. This, he said, "frosts my tail."

Pickett said that he scheduled a staff meeting with the social service workers for today "to go over the background so they can understand some of my concerns and develop a better approach for them and the environmental workers to get together and work this out.

"The social service worker sees a home as a man's castle, and the environmental team sees it as a social institution," Pickett said.

Industrial S&L of SSF Sets Glendale Merger

Industrial Savings and Loan Association of South San Francisco will be acquired by Glendale Savings and Loan Association for an undisclosed amount of cash under an agreement announced last week.

Industrial, with assets of $16 million, has offices in South San Francisco and San Bruno with plans to open a Millbrae branch within 60 days.

Glendale Federal, with assets of $1.8 billion, has 34 offices in Southern California, primarily in the Santa Barbara and San Diego areas. Glendale plans to open a Palo Alto office by the end of the year.

"The entire staff will remain, and I will serve as regional vice president of this area for Glendale Federal," said Nate C. De Giobbi, president of Industrial. "We look forward to being able to increase our services through an expanding lending program and additional savings options."

The merger is subject to the approval of Industrial's stockholders, plus state and federal savings and loan regulators.

Pacifica Rec Softball Tournaments

The Pacifica Parks, Beaches and Recreation Department and the Sports Association of Northern California Recreation Agencies will co-sponsor the Third Annual Men's Class "C" Slow Pitch Tournament August 11 and 12 at Fairmont West Park and Sharp Park School.

Entry fee is $20 per ball club. Registration is limited to the first 16 teams. Deadline for signing up a team will be Thursday before 5 p.m.

The department and the sports association also will co-sponsor the first annual Class C Ladies Slow Pitch Tournament July 28 at Fairmont West Park and Sharp Park School. Teams in the tournament include Righteously Together Women (San Bruno); Channing Fund (Daly City); Jerry Byrd Trucking (Daly City; Rely Construction (Milpitas); San Carlos Sheet Metal (San Carlos); Hefner's Typewriter Service (Pacifica); and Ski and Dive (Pacifica).

Games will be at 10 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Selects Snare Slow-Pitch Supremacy

The Daly City Recreation Division's High School Slow Pitch Softball League has gone to the Regal Selects, who took it by virtue of their back-to-back wins over the Hooligans and Superstars.

The Regal Selects banged out a 16-5 victory over a rough Hooligans team. Briwn Chan went 4-for-4 and recorded his second win with relief help from Ramon Limon. The Selects had home run power from Ferrari, Koniakis and Gfroerer. Dave Foppiano went 4-for-5 and secored four runs for the winners.

Ramon Limon pitched a five-hit shutout as the Selects picked up their third consecutive win in the high school league.

Harry Koniakis banged out three hits and batted in three runs for the Selects. Bruce Olmanson played outstanding defense as the Selects did not allow one base runner to reach third base.

It took eight innings but the Superstars finally edged the Cubs 5-4 as Tim Howard scored the deciding run on Craig Cooper's sacrifice fly to center. Jim Ryan had three hits. Mike Simon two and Tim Howard the big hit, a homer to left field.

The Superstar infield consisted of Scott Martin, Ryan, Simon and Howard, all making outstanding plays. In the final game of the week the Seals downed the Cubs 11-7.

Skyline Evening List Ready

The fall 1973 Skyline College evening classes and courses catalog and schedule are available at the college and in San Mateo County libraries, David P. Marin, director of the evening college, has announced.

Once again included in the catalog-schedule is a mail-in application form and envelope.

Marin noted that the Skyline evening college enrollment has increased at an average of more than five percent each semester and urged students to complete the applications and mail them to the college as early as possible. Classes begin Tuesday, September 11. Final day of registration by mail is Friday, August 18.

The evening college also will accept applications following that date at the college's admissions office.

TV in DC . .

CERTAINLY WISH President Nixon could make up with the special Senate Watergate panel as easily as Liz Taylor and hubby Richard Burton did with each other last week. Of course we would not expect the President to kiss and embrace Senator Sam Ervin as Liz and Dick did on meeting in Rome, but it would be nice to tuck this matter away and start devoting some space to other issues of the day — The nonsense of the French and their atomic plaything out in the Pacific, perhaps?

ON THE LOCAL SCENE, special Jefferson Elementary School board Attorney Bill Johnston of Oakland is drafting charges against Roger Barthuli and Frank Greenwood to present to the court in Redwood City July 27 in answer to the ousted administrators' request for reinstatement. It was learned after much prying, that Johnston will lead off his charges with the alleged okeh for cable television lines to be laid across school property without the approval of the board of trustees. This matter also was touched on by the state auditors in their recent report.

AND SPEAKING OF CATV — A new target date for completion of the system is set now for early spring. Most of the Daly City area already is "wired." this column has learned. However, modification of certain electronic equipment, coupled with a shortage of items and a major change in ownership (Tele-communications, Inc. of Denver bought the firm from Mrs. Morgan Murphy last year) have resulted in delays past the June 30, 1973, deadline for the city.

The need to underground the entire network in the Serramonte area — the final chapter in the cable log — is time consuming, a spokesman for the organization has confided. On this basis the city council will be asked for its consideration in granting the extension.

ON THE SAME SUBJECT — That Sutro Tower is an awe-inspiring flop for our money. Not only does it provide the entire North County with a colossal eyesore-in-the-sky, it doesn't bring in that good a picture on the old tube. Some areas can't even get reception as good as they did before. And those ugly transmission towers still clutter San Bruno Mountain. Leave it to San Francisco — the city that once knew how, but someaere along the cable car'line, forgot!

GLAD TO SEE the federal guvment finally is okeying the use of certain highway funds for local transit. If there is one thing the North County needs it's a reliable bus system enabling folks to travel safely, economically and on time to all points in their respective cities. There are some bus systems in operation in county cities at present, but let's face it, folks, there's a lot of room for improvement.

THE BIG QUESTION in Daly City today is how will the planning commission vote next week on that redevelopment amendment to the general plan?

Our guess, after snooping around a bit, is the vote will be (hand me the envelope) 4-1. Who will be the dissenter in adopting the plan? We would rather not say, although we do know, because of pressures that might be applied. The single "no" vote will be based on that man's decision that BART isn't everything it's cracked up to be. (Oops, sorry. Remember the Sandpile, we say.)

PREVIOUSLY WE STATED our feelings on the redevelopment proposal. That is, those planners had better move soon for the sake of everyone. There are some persons in the redevelopment target area who don't know if they should even paint their homes because of the insecurity facing the proposed district.

And frequently in recent months the city council has turned down requests for new construction, modification to structures and establishment of businesses in the huge tract pending a decision.

AT LAST WEEK'S JESD BOARD MEETING a young female teacher asked that she not be reassigned to the trouble-plagued George Washington School from her "old" classes at Woodrow Wilson. Sorry, Dr. Vin Stratton, associate superintendent for instruction told her, the reassignment stays in effect.

Trustee Forrester tried to encourage the teacher, who was near tears, by informing her, "Perhaps someday there will be two dozen teachers who will want to go to George Washington to teach, isn't that true?" she asked Stratton.

To this Stratton replied simply: "That'll be the day!"

Youth Corps Jobs Open

Daly City is now trying to fill some 30 vacancies in its Summer Youth Program and has asked interested persons to contact City Hall for details on applying for the jobs, City Manager David Rowe announced today.

Rowe said the program provides some 70 jobs for youth and is funded by the Neighborhood Youth Corps and administered by the city.

Qualifications for the jobs, which pay $1.65 per hour and are full-time for six consecutive weeks this summer, are that a youth be between 14 and 18 years of age. A June, 1973 high school graduate may be eligible under certain requirements.

Most of the jobs involve manual labor either in the streets, building maintenance or parks divisions.

The NYC is aimed at giving disadvantaged youth a job where they can earn money to carry on school studies.

Peninsula Housewives Beat High Food Costs

By FRANK LaPIERRE

An increasing number of Peninsula housewives are banding together to beat the high cost of living.

They have formed what can only be called "produce co-ops."

The co-ops work this way:

Houewives from, say, ten families join in purchasing bulk groceries from wholesale outlets. They confine their buying to those vegetables, fruits and dairy products that offer the best price on the day they go to market.

One group of ten families, consisting of some 40 persons, in San Mateo county, spend every Wednesday either at the San Francisco Produce Market in South San Francisco, or bagging the groceries they have bought at a group member's garage.

Each person chips in one-tenth of whatever the buyers decide to spend their money on. And whatever is purchased, the co-op members must take one-tenth home with them.

For several weeks carrots were a good buy.

So good, in fact, that one husband swore his eyesight had improved to the point where he could read in the dark.

While these good-natured ribbings may be in fun, the women are dead serious about their venture.

As a matter-of-fact, to be certain they are getting their money's worth one team of housewives checks out prices at local supermarkets.

"We figure we save almost 50 percent by buying produce in the bulk," Mrs. Russell Johnson, of Belmont, confided recently after a particularly productive day at the market.

Inside the Johnson garage, four women were busy sorting, weighing and bagging (in plastic bags) a variety of fruits and vegetables — all freshly bought that morning.

Among the items were melons, string beans, squash, strawberries, lettuce, sweet corn, tomatoes and cherries.

Two of the women had been up since early morning, driven the 30 odd miles to the produce outlet, shopped around for the best buys and returned to the garage by mid-morning.

There they were joined by several other "members" who divided the items and bagged them for each family.

There are some other benefits attached to the bulk buying in addition to the money saving.

"Now, my kids eat more vegtables and I give them fresh fruit instead of sweets," one housewife explained.

Is what the women doing legal?

"Why not?" an employee of one of the wholesale outlets at the produce market replied.

"We haven't got the time to check out every person that comes in to buy a couple of cases of this or a case of that to see if he or she owns a store," he said. "And, besides, we don't care. They want a case of what we have to sell, they got it."

The neighborhood co-ops haven't put the pinch on supermarkets sales as yet and no move has been made to interfere.

Meanwhile, the women continue their buying, dividing, bagging and saving household money.

Are there any plans to branch outinto the meat buying end of the business?

"We're studying it," Mrs. Johnson said.

PRISCILLA FORD carefully weighs out bing cherries bought that morning. Each family participating in the venture gets one-tenth of the amount purchased. In background Mrs. Russell Johnson pries open a case of melons.

Europe Preoccupied

During the past month, my family and I have travelled in Europe. Following thousands who have made the journey previously, some in elegance, some on foot and by bicycle, we have moved about in our own manner. This included transit by mini bus and moving contact with a large amount of geography and a sizeable number of Europe's peoples.

On leaving the United States, we were curious as to whether Europeans would prove as preoccupied with our troubles as were we. Would current American events dominate the minds and media of Europe?

The big news has been American. Editorials, front pages and headlines have been filled with one story. Many conversations center on the subject and the preoccupation appears almost universal.

Germans and French seem overjoyed by our misfortunes. The Swiss are discreetly noncommittal. Italians appear to long for more such news. The English alone offer sympathy.

As the subject matter of the news was important to me personally, I followed these impressions closely. Leaving home proved to be no way to get away from the problems of home. In fact, they appeared bigger than before, and the difference of perspective had the effect of magnification.

The news, of course, has concerned the dollar. The high (or low) point was the large French headline which needed no elaborate translation "Dollar Plummets."

The immediate effect has been personal and painful. The cost of everything has risen during our brief journey, and while we had purchased some European currencies before departure, we currently seem to be in a mad dash to escape before some smiling concierge grasps our last dear dime.

It has been a kind of Alice in Wonderland experience, as the dollar bill has appeared to get smaller and smaller while a polite and beseeching voice ever more loudly says "more," "more," "more." It was one thing to read of exchange problems before leaving home; there was no immediate and unpleasant involvement. It has been another to be playing tuba in the Titanic band as she goes down.

Learned analyses give little comfort. The go words of economics appear as "gone" words when you are one of the star players. We have endured several "technical adjustments" in the past few days, and while the dollar tested new lows, travelling Americans have tested new glums.

There, is, of course, a sunny, or at least a gray side, to the news. If the U.S. government continues to let market forces work out exchange rates and refuses to mobilize reserve assets and to borrow internationally, the export industries of other nations will suffer, and our balance of foreign trade will eventually improve.

In long run theory, this is hopeful. But in short term real life, it means the next week will be like the past three. It also means that when we get home, the cost of imported goods (and probably all goods) will be higher.

So while the economists may rejoice when a new equilibrium is reached, the same elation may miss the average American. For the equilibrium we are headed for is one in which the water will even off much closer to nose level, and in which our style and standard of living may be appreciably lowered.

In any event, it has been an interesting time for travel and for a firsthand look at downward adjustment.

Oh yes, there has been news of Watergate. Most days it plays to inside pages. The most memorable comment was by a Dutch gentleman who said: "You folks have thought up the best whodunit of all times — I personally think the butler did it."

Samuel Chandler

An Egg'

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

A periodical article hails the 1973-74 season as "the era when television found its social purpose."

But I wonder. If the show "Love Thy Neighbor" is an example, TV has laid another egg. Here we have three characters who could not pass the kindergarten entrance tests while a fourth character, the black woman, could make it if she concentrated.

THE FOUR principles are stock characters without form or life. Look at them. A dumb, self-interested white man, like hundreds that television writers use for comedy; an equally dumb black man who adds ambition to his ineptness; a shallow white woman who suffers because she is smarter than her husband; and finally a black woman who is so magnanimous she endures the barbs of her bigoted neighbors.

Added to this are plots that are 10 to 12 years out of date. From such mish-mash comes such nonsense as "Here's someone not even of our ethnic faith," and a scene where a watermelon is hidden in an oven and baked because, in somebody's mind, watermelons are supposed to offend black people. Such stuff is so shallow it leads one to appreciate grouchy old Archie Bunker and the cast of "All in the Family."

EACH noteworthy book and show with a social purpose at its roots has some elements that may be found in others of the type. In each of them the author deals with an issue that should arouse some interest in the reader. Then through incidents that picture characters in opposition to each other, he works around the problem.

Usually the characters are people with a high degree of seriousness. They are people who are highly intelligent and possess a great knowledge of right and wrong and a desire to do what is right. But circumstances place them in opposition to people with other interests and contrasting view points. In this conflict the author sees the results in store for society if the problem is not solved.

FOR EXAMPLE, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been hailed by Malcolm Bradbury as "a powerful analysis of every aspect of radicalism, including a good understanding of the sexuality of slavery and a fair view of Yankee and Southern slaveholders."

Mrs. Stowe, the authoress, saw that slavery in the United States was degenerating to both the slaves and the masters. She saw how it was substituting sentimentalism for genuine feeling. With this knowledge she led her characters through scenes that readers and later viewers of the play never forget.

READERS of Ralph Ellison's "The Invisible Man" never forget the picture of American Negroes 100 years after the end of slavery. Here a black boy approaches adulthood with the ideals of liberty and equality ringing in his ears. But one after another he loses his dreams and finally crawls behind a sign board in hopes he may be invisible to a world that deceives and betrays men because of race or creed.

In this novel there are elements of comedy and irony and burlesque as great as any produced on television but most of all it's a story of a brutal, terrifying social problem that besets our country.

"The Invisible Man" takes its place with other great stories of social purpose. Among them are Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter," John Galsworthy's "Forsythe Saga," Sinclair Lewis' "Babbitt," James Baldwin's "Another Country," Emile Zola's "Nana," Harper Lee's "To Kill a Mockingbird" and William Faulkner's "The Sound and the Fury."

THE MARQUEE

By Barbara Bladen

Buy Now and You Won't Cry Later

I always know when a superstar is coming to Circle Star Theater. That's when my popularity soars and "long lost friends," most of whom I haven't seen or talked to in years, call . . . to ask if I can get them tickets on a sold-out show. My ego didn't hit a peak but my phone messages did when a small notice at the bottom of the Circle Star Theater billboard announced Sonny and Cher, even before the newspaper ads were placed. Not that it wasn't nice hearing from the grocery clerk I dealt with in San Carlos in 1950, the gas station attendant from where I lived in San Mateo in 1967 and the cleaners where I traded three years ago, but Sonny and Cher tickets (at any price, for any night) are as impossible to attain as Nixon's secret tapes.

So get out your date books, mark your calendars and send a check off in the mail right now if any of the fall attractions look good . . . and if there are seven out of the 12 you might consider, there's a 10 per cent discount for getting the series.

It's not studded with surprises but there might be potential superstar in the lineup. Success isn't overnight but these performers might get "hot" before they step onto the San Carlos stage. I remember Sonny and Cher a few years back when they had third billing on a rock program to which teenyboppers flocked. Now every mother's son and his grandmother are clammoring to see the sexy duo.

The season will open September 4 with Liberace and Steve DePass. This follows with return engagements by Engelbert Humperdinck (Sept. 10-16); Mitzi Gaynor, wearing fabulous gowns by Bob Mackie who costume Sonny and Cher (Sept. 27-30).

New to Circle Star is Helen Reddy and Robert Klein who have recently played San Francisco and were well received (Oct. 5-7); B.B. King with Gladys Knight and the Pips might be a block buster. They both have a following and should combine in a terrific concert (Oct. 11-14).

And at long last, Johnny Carson with singer Phyllis Maguire of the Maguire Sisters (Oct. 19-21); Vickie Carr and George Kirby represent a repeat booking for her with him in for the first time (Nov. 8-11); Bill Cosby sharing the spotlight with Bill Withers (Nov. 15-18); Sadler and Young who are bigger now than when they were last here (Nov. 23-25); George Carlin, for the second time (Nov. 30-Dec. 1.). If you heard Ella Fitzgerald and Count Basie when they were here earlier this year, you've not likely forgotten the impact and superb showmanship of that concert. They are due back and this has to be Circle Star's Christmas treat to the community on Dec. 4-9. The New Year's week of Dec. 28-Jan. 1 will have The Temptations in residence.

It seems proper that the owners have decided not to continue with the musical comedy idea although they are still considering the Broadway hit "Follies" which never came to the Bay Area and is traveling now with Selma Diamond, Hildegarde, Vivian Blaine, Robert Alda and Jane Keane of "The Honeymooners" in the cast. And they negotiated to get "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" but lost out to American Conservatory Theater because they could offer the company a longer run at the Geary Theater.

Shirt Tail Salads Are Artistic Creations

The salads by Chef Jack Hunter at the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto are truly artistic creations. The chef's Stadium Bowl is a succulent blend of julienne of turkey, ham, cheese, on a bed of crisp greens with tomato, asparagus and hard-cooked egg. Also recommended: Shrimp Salad, Neptune Combination and Crab Salad. Superb! . . . On a Saturday night you want to get out and boogie — Maurice Anger, featured at the Hilton Inn, knows all the musical sounds from the 30's and 40's to the new beats of the 70's. Anger's band entertains Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights for your listening and dancing pleasure. To start the evening right, a continental dinner at the unique French Corner restaurant . . . Frank and Fannie Torres continue to service the Coastside with the finest in South American dishes. As owners of Torres Beach Restaurant, located in Montara (just south of Devil's Slide), they have been offering the Papas Relleno as a house specialty ever since we can remember. Try one — you'll like it . . . Could Phil Lehr's Steakery be the best restaurant in the U.S.? Dining Magazine is polling 100,000 traveling executives in a search for this country's finest restaurant, and the Steakery is in the running. Winners will be announced in the magazine's October issue.

A FIRST FOR KAY — Kay Ballard, noted as a "performer's performer," shares the stage with the Lennon Sisters in the Circus Room at John Ascuaga's Nugget. Both acts are playing the Reno-Sparks area for the first time.

Jovanelo's, Montgomery Streeters' Headquarters

The cocktail lounge of Jovanelo's restaurant is where crowds of Montgomery streeters meet after work. In charge of the culinary department, the nerve center of the operation, is co-owner chef Joe Piccinini, whose continental dinners include Antipasto Italiano, Prosciutto Con Melone, Cannelloni Della Casa, your choice of entree, plus dessert . . . It's been an extra-busy week for Al Malatesta at the Iron Gate restaurant in Belmont. With British superstar Tom Jones now appearing at the Circle Star Theater, the phone has been ringing off the hook with people making reservations for pre-theater dinners. Dinner at the Iron Gate is the perfect beginning to any evening on the town; the seting is elegant, service is swift and attentive, and the handsome dinner menu features superb continental dishes like Rack of Lamb Sarralaise, prepared to perfection by the restaurant's Master Chef . . . Don Dianda, head man at Doros, Holiday award winning restaurant in San Francisco, is receiving many congratulations from diners on his having been elected President of the California State Restaurant Association at their recent meeting in Sacramento.

Major Sports TV'd At Bruno's

Name your favorite sport and, if it's on the tube, Bruno's will have the set on. All major sports are televised at this popular restaurant, one way to sip and dine and, at the same time, get the play-by-play action as it happens. Very handy for the sports fan over the weekend facing the wife's and kids' preference for some other program. This way, no sedatives are required. . . . After the Junktique Auction, Glen Liney and Larry Ashley celebrated their birthdays, with a group of twenty Rotarians, at Sal Campagna's House of Troy restaurant, in San Carlos. The highlight of the dinner was a delicious rum cake. Happy birthday, Glen and Larry! . . . Crowds gather nightly at Maiden Lane's Iron Horse restaurant and cocktail lounge to feast on complimentary hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. An excellent menu boasts almost every gourmet specialty. You'll be impressed with the old New Orleans-style decor. . . . Gift certificates for dinner are sold for any of the Lowry's restaurants at the Ben Jonson located in the Cannery. Because many of the furnishings in the restaurant were originally owned by William R. Hearst, many who visit San Simeon make it a point to visit the Ben Jonson restaurant, too. The lounge of the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco, will be showcasing a new organbar entertainer on July 30. Co-owner Nick Sbarra says his name is Joe Barton and he's been performing in Las Vegas for the past 17 years. Rated as one of the top jazz pianists in the country, Barton has nine albums to his recording credit . . . To impress out of town guests, a dinner at Le Parisien in Burlingame is heartily recommended. There are delectable hors d'oeuvres, numerous entrees from which to choose, and exquisite desserts. Complete dinners include soup salad, dessert of mousse au chocolat and coffee. The selection of imported and domestic wines is an extensive one.

George Wolfman

Every time I raised my fork George Wolfman flinched because the fork was in my left hand. It was an old conditioned reflect which he learned when I aas playing first base for him at Mission High School from 1949-52.

In those days my left arm posed a mortal threat to George because I possessed the most deadly of all baseball weapons — a left arm that could throw hard but knew not where. Wolfman used to re-learn this daily during infield practice. Many was the night he went home with dirt on the seat of his pants because he had to hit the turf when I threw the ball in the conclusion of each round. "Throw where you're looking," was his favorite reply to the daily assault.

PROBABLY our most humiliating mutual experi- a smash at third baseman Bob Quatrin, who threw per- the old Harrison Street diamond, when we were playing Sacred Heart. The stands were packed and George, perhaps anticipating the crowd, had on a spanking new hat and newly cleaned trousers. He opened infield with a smash at third baseman Bob Quattrin, who threw perfectly to me, and I wheeled and let one fly to our catcher, Art Lillis. Wolfman had evidently forgotten himself and was waving to someone in the stands, a foolish act when I was throwing the ball. I stood transfixed in horror, as did Lillis, as the ball headed straight for George's head. At the last moment, thankfully, Lillis yelled. Wolfman looked up to see the ball headed right between his eyes and, displaying the remarkable reflexes he had honed as a catcher in the Pacific Coast League, he hit the dirt head first, emerging with dirty hat, dirty jacket, dirty trousers, dirty face (and a dirty look on it), and . . . well, that was one of the reasons why George flinched when I raised my fork.

The occasion for the lunch was this interview, inspired by the culmination of Wolfman's 37 years as a baseball coach, 17 years at Mission (ten championships), and the past 20 at Cal (a national championship in 1957).

WOLFMAN, now 62, didn't have to retire, but did so because of the press of a burgeoning full-time business, Noel Associates (creative advertising specialties), and the wish to work more closely with his sons, Ron (nine years with the firm) and Rich (two years) and his wife Jean, who has been with Noel as long as George.

As he sat there that day, discussing his business and reminiscing about his years in baseball and the outstanding players he's coached (from Cal, he sent to the majors Earl Robinson, Dave Dowling, Mike Epstein, Andy Messersmith; from Mission, Bob Chesnes, Mike Baxes, Gus Triandos; and literally scores of others to the high minors, many of whom would have undoubtedly played big league ball during the expansion era), I couldn't help thinking about my own personal reminiscences of my association with Wolfman.

There was the time that we were preparing for an important game against Sacred Heart. Jim Gentile, a lefty who later broke home run and RBI records for the Baltimore Orioles, was going to be pitching. Gentile threw hard and tended to be wild and Wolfman wanted a similar type southpaw to throw batting practice on the day before the game. We didn't have any southpaw pitchers that year and while I certainly couldn't smoke the ball like Gentile I threw hard enough, for a short period of time, anyway. Wolfman told me to pitch batting practice, to throw hard and "don't fool around and get fancy."

THE FIRST BATTER was our rightfielder, Rich Barry, a good left-handed hitter. Barry and I were friends and had an argument going as to who was the best left-handed hitter on the team (actually it was our left fielder, Harold Kelly), and I saw this as a wonderful opportunity to make Barry look foolish. I had read a book which explained how to throw screwballs and thought this would be a good time to try one. So, wanting to be fair, I gave Barry the signal — an inside twist of my wrist — that he was going to get a screwgie. Barry just laughed at this and dug in. I threw the ball the way it was described in the book, and to my — and Barry's — surprise, the ball broke down and in about a foot, right into Barry's left knee, which had been sore all year. Needless to say, that one pitch ended my career as a batting practice pitcher. Luckily, Barry was able to play the next day. Wolfman, for some unfathomable reason allowed me to play, and both Barry and I got hits off Gentile and in no way contributed to a 4-3 loss.

IN 1952 WE were playing Balboa on Nealon Field at Big Rec. Pitching for them was a tall right hander named John Caruso who had a penchant for blue dark glasses and a huge curve. He was to go on to be an All-City pitcher that year. It was an important game and I rose to the occasion. Somehow, I got on base three times and, utilizing a dazzling array of baserunning techniques, managed to be picked off of first, second and third.

Upon realizing that the third time hadn't become a charm, Wolfman spit into the dirt and calmly strolled over to Graham Field (adjacent to Nealon) to watch Sacred Heart beating Poly, leaving our game in the hands of an assistant coach. We won, possibly because Caruso's sides were aching from laughing at me.

The next day Wolfman had a team meeting and prefaced his remarks with something which sounded like this:

"I WANT to apologize to you boys for walking off the field yesterday and watching the other game. I've never done anything like that in my life and hope I never will again. But I felt that you had a better chance of beating Bal without me around (he actually watched only one inning of the other game), because I might have done something which could have prevented you from winning — like killing Pacini. I felt he should stay in the game because the law of averages said that he would eventually have to do something right.

"Now, I'm not going to punish Pacini, because I figure I've had enough punishment for both of us. I had nightmares all last night. I kept seeing Pacini hitting line drives and then getting picked off bases — hundreds of them. Well, I hope he got it all out of his system, so let's forget about it and get on with winning some more games."

And Wolfman did forget about it and we went on and won some more games.

JUST ONE MORE. It was the first game of the championship playoffs against Sacred Heart at Seals Stadium in 1952. I was on second base in a bags loaded, one or no out situation, when Joe Delfino unloaded a tremendous blast to the base of the right center field wall, which was caught spectacularly by Herm Carmassi. Fortunately, pitcher Harry Higgins, our man on third, tagged up and scored what eventually proved to be the winning run.

I should have been able to easily tag up and move to third, putting myself in a better position to score another run. But in those days I was aesthetically inclined, and so enthralled was I by the length of Delfino's

Daly City Recreation Division kicked off its Adult Slow Pitch Late Summer League with 25 games in five separate leagues.

In the A league, the Hillsdie Master Batters clubbed Rolland Soul City for a 10-3 win. Dennis Germano, Bill Delucchi and Mike Grazioli had outstanding days at plate. Larry Delucchi and Jim Fisher played falwless defense as the Hillside Master Batters turned over three double plays.

The Goodtime Boys tipped Tippy's 15-2 as Gerry Kalicki went 4-for-4 and "Tear the Bear" Piccardo pitched an outstanding game. Joe Skaar and Jr. Rebarber turned in the best defensive plays for the Good Time Boys.

Castle Street Nursery picked off Flower Rite for a 12-5 verdict. Three-run homers by Ralph Olcese and Mike Smyth powered the nursery to this victory. Dennis DiRicco turned in a good defensive game.

In other action Milio's Misfits edged PT and T 4-3.

B LEAGUE NORTH — G and C Builders constructed an early lead and had it hold up for a 6-0 win over Steve's Catering. hitting attack with a 2-for-2 night. Shortstop Ray Galli received credit for seven assists and three putouts in G and C's win.

The Henchmen cranked out a 7-6 win over the Pomona Casuals in the bottom of the seventh when Bill True hit a bases loaded single to drive in the deciding run. Dan Hughes hit a homer earlier in the game to spark the Henchmen's attack.

The Emanons edged Westlake Pizza in a great defensive ball game 2-1.

Chalmers-All-Stars defeated Broadway Plumbing 16-4 as Grant Steer went 5-for-5 with two homers. Ed Ferrari and Joe Crimeli each collected 3 hits including one homer apiece as they downed the plumbers.

B LEAGUE WEST — The Golden Coach rolled over the S.F. Security Traders 19-9. Rich Brenner at 4-for-4 and Charlie Ruef 3-for-3 led the Coaches attack. Ruef and Tom Brown each hit homers for Golden Coach.

Canco put a lid on the Wreck Em's attack and collected a 5-2 win. A three-run first inning was all Art Harris needed to pitch Canco to its victory. Consecutive hits by Chuck Backus, Larry Fiaranelli, George Marcillac and Art Harris did the damage.

The Turf Club outslugged the Glen Club 11-6. Pete Calabro and Dan Katona each collected three hits and Ron Junje hit a booming homer for the Turf Club.

Thunder struck the Greco Bar for a 7-3 victory. Lonnie Shaddot and Pat Kavanaugh played outstanding defense for Thunder.

Colts, Lions, Scots Lead DC Baseball

The PAL Costs continued to lead in this week's Daly City Recreation Division's Boys Baseball League action after three games. The Colts shot down the Eagles 4-3. Brian Jones and Jim Poulos combined to pitch a four-hitter and strike out 12. Randy Perez hit a homer for the Colts and Ross Pinomaki and Brian Jones each had two hits for the winners.

Carriage House caged the Wildcats and collected a 13-10 win. The OLPH Tigers stopped the Liners 4-1. The Tigers won with timely hitting by Rod Salangsang and fine fielding by Al Banks and Clay Alvey. The PAL Liners came back to defeat Carriage House 5-2 in a well-played game by both teams. Joe Chitwood led the Liners with two hits. Defensively, Bob Gerstle threw out three runners attempting to steal. Robert Avila, Ken Rodriguez and Jeff Gravelle also were outstanding for the Liners.

Daly City Playgrounds List Weekly Happenings

ABE LINCOLN playground proved to have many artistic tie-dyers at a session last Friday. There were over 30 shirts in the buckets. Shirts voted the best were created by Jeanette Bess, Bill Guzman, Rori Silva, Greg Zatcoff, David Steinberg, Tony Arane, Teri Zatcoff, Laura Prado and Bill Wyant.

DANIEL WEBSTER — Softball has arrived at Daniel Webster with a two-game sweep over the Vista Mar Eagles. Webster's team was highlighted by the hitting of Pete Martin, who went 4-for-5 and the home run blasts of his older brother George. On defense, Mike Perry played a fine game at first base with Ron Spinetti at third base and rover.

Daniel Webster has more games scheduled with Vista Mar and Westmoor Park next week.

The Broom Hockey team is flying high after a winning start. Challenges came from Colma. Little Jeff and Abe Lincoln to try to upset the next city champs. New recruits have been added to the team and scout Rich Gray is looking for more interested kids.

F. D. ROOSEVELT — Everyone at FDR is awaiting the big "Wheels Day," from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. July 27. Danny Brumsey, Tony Hautman and "Peanut" Scarborough are among the many entrants competing for the "Wheelie Championship" of FDR.

Other highlights that day will be a parade and usual bring-your-own-barbecue.

The "Aggravation," "Sorry" and checkers games are going with Marty Sands, John Profit and Tracy and Keith Gilbert ready to take on any challengers.

Anyone interested in starting a broom hockey team at FDR should see the recreation leaders as soon as possible.

LITTLE JEFF — The broom hockey team, "The Jeff Pioneers," has begun practice under the leadership of Danny Mendoza and Clay Younger, co-captains. Ed and Val Gonzales were in on the action last Friday, passing past Ron Portillo and the coach.

After the Friday barbecue, Dorian Garibaldi came out with top hula hoop honors after completing a "wrap the mummy to hula hop" for her freestyle event. Daniela Franchi placed second and Lisa Goodman third. Albert Carvalho came through with an upset in the jacks tournament, beating out second place winner Lisa Goodman.

OUR LADY OF MERCY — OLM bikers had an enjoyable bike rally at OLM last week. Events included best-decorated bikes, obstacle courses and a long distance race. Gerald McFadden placed first in the best decorated bike category with his Mexican Fiesta Bike. Anne Sullivan placed second and Diane and Elaine Murray tied for third.

In the 10-speed division Bill Cremen was first, John Pappas, second and John Sullivan third in the long-distance race. Cremen also came in first, Sullivan second and Steve Dobberstein third in the obstacle course.

In the Sting Ray division Doug Price came in first, Mike Restivo second and Dan Diggins third in the long distance race. Mike Restivo came in first, Tom Sullivan second and Anne Sullivan third, for the obstacle course.

PALISADES PARK — The Palisades Park Packers, the regulars on the weekly Thursday outings: Don, Dan and Denise Piiwaa, John and Grace Manson, John Morris, Kenji and Anson Snow; Mark and Matthew Bufka; Liz and Mark Barro; Robby and Russell Moffet; Mark and Tony Unger; Mark and Chris Ostegaro; really have traveled extensively throughout the East Bay and enjoyed the water and sun there.

Soccer games have started in a two-game series. Dan Piiwaa's Pirates are behind Mark Unger's Rangers with a loss (14-0) and a tie (4-4).

PANORAMA — Panorama highlights of the week were a carrom championship with Jerry Hess and Steve Goldberg taking the honors, and a ping pong tourney with Wrists Belli and Joe Cecena playing the final round. Barbecues also are big.

VISTA GRANDE — Vista Grande's newly named softball team, the "Over the Hill Gang," lost its second game in as many tries, again to Woodrow Wilson, 9-3. The loss overshadowed a fine effort by all, but especially Jose Ruiz, who was 4-for-4 with two RBI's. Hitting proved to be the weakest link of the "Over the Hill Gang" attack, with a team average of only .235.

Tim Tompkins, James Keys, Nancy Buitrago and Ken Bates all played well in defeat. Marcella Wetherbee also struck out three Woodrow Wilson batters, a high for the season.

The daily kickball and softball games have brought out plenty of excitement and competition. Among those participating are Dan Martire, Bobby Sanders, Hugh Loveless, Elizabeth Carranza and Arthur Diaz.

Barbecues are each Thursday at 1 p.m.

WESTLAKE SCHOOL — Ping pong is the most popular activity at Westlake, with rarely a free paddle. It's an activity which invites children of all ages to participate.

A baby picture contest was another activity recently. Each contestant had to identify the entries. Surprisingly enough there was a 4-way tie between Andy Maccagno, Anna Marie Maccagno, Bill McCartney and Brenda Silverman.

WESTMOOR PARK — Westmoor Park's softball team continued to roll up the victories last week. After taking a single game from Daniel Webster the team went on to take two from Vista Mar School. Leading the attack was Jack Dorn, who went 9-for-11. Other leading hitters were Mike Botta, Steve Botta, Ed Cruz, Craig Bloom and Tino Donaire.

The same day, Dietz Balagot led the team to victory by hitting two homeruns. One of Balagot's homeruns was a towering grand slam.

Last week's "Athlete of the Week" award went to Steve Botta for his clutch hitting. "Offensive Player of the Week" went to Dorn and "Defensive Player" to Donaire.

WOODROW WILSON SCHOOL — Ping pong, carroms and softball were major events of interest last week at Woodrow.

trice, Joe, Jackie, Tim, David and Anita Bender; John and Bruce Ayres; Jerry and on Richardson; Harold Hills; Gary Meccalef; Louie Pezzola; Donald Johnson; Junior Berrios; Albert Grigsby; Booker Bradford; Albert Keb; and Rodney Williams.

Woodrow's softball team met Vista Grande for the second time this summer and boosted its record to two wins and one loss with a 9-3 victory. Homeruns were hit by John Bender and Bradford. Hits were also collected by Berrios, Patrice and Joe Bender, Grigsby, Pezzola, Meccalet, Johnson, Martin Nicoterios and Phil and James Granger. Pitcher John Ayres hit a triple.

Monday at 2:15 p.m. is cartoon time at Woodrow, featuring the Roadrunner.

YOUNG JUDO competitors Ed Brown and Ben Palacio Jr. of the Daly City Recreation Department judo program sport their winning trophies. They were victorious in the tenth National Junior Judo Championships at Hofstra University in New York July 6-7. Ed competed in the 10-year-old lightweight division while Ben claimed honors in the nine-year-old heavyweight division. Pictured for the honorary presentations were, left to right, Ed Tomasello, Daly City recreation superintendent; Brown; Mitch Palacio, former junior champion; Ben Palacio, and Jim Fusaro, Daly City parks and recreation commissioner.

Hula Hoop Test in DC

Brightly colored hula hoops will whirl as Daly City boys and girls begin competition in the Sixth Annual Hula Hoop Championship. Daly City contests will be the week of July 30 to August 2 at all local playgrounds with boys and girls eligible to join the preliminary competition in either the eleven and under or 12 through 15 category.

City finals will be August 3 at Westmoor Park at 1:30 p.m., with all playground winners and runner-ups eligible to compete. Both boy and girl city champions will be eligible to proceed to the state finals in Newark August 11. State winners will earn a $100 U.S. savings bond and a free three-day trip to the regional finals in Burbank.

Gyrating and twirling to the beat of accompanying music, the contestants perform such tricks as the knee knocker, Alley Oop, hula hop and wrap the mummy.

Considerable weight is given by judges to the freestyle routine created by each youngster, which enables the boys and girls to become inventive and creative. The freestyle is the solo event performed in the national finals.

All contestants will be supplied hula hoops during the competition. These are provided each year by Wham-O-Manufacturing Co., co-sponsors of the event with the Daly City Recreation Department. All interested youngsters should contact their local playground leader for details.

Inquiries also may be made directly to the Daly City Contest director, Charlie Smithson at the recreation department, 992-5356.

'Third World' Plays for Dance

"The Third World" will play a top variety of Latin, rock and soul sounds at the War Memorial Community Center Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. as the Daly City Recreation Department continues its summer dance program for high school age teens. The cost is $1.50 for singles and $2 per couple.

The final dance of the summer is August 17 at the War Memorial center and will feature a variety of entertainment from local bands. Grups interested in playing may contact Charlie Smithson at the recreation office, 134 Hillside Boulevard, or call 992-5356.

blast and the beauty of Carmassi's catch, that I stayed on second, ignoring the cries of our third base coach, everybody in the dugout and many of the 3,000 spectators in the stands.

IT WAS WOLFMAN'S policy in those days to position himself with one foot on the top stair of the dugout. I'll never forget the look of dismay on his face and then watching him suddenly disappear. What had happened was that he attempted to kick the top step of the dugout with his lower foot, missed, and fell down the steps, injuring his ankle. Worse yet, he fell at the feet of my buddy Rich Barry, who made the great tactical blunder of laughing. The fact that Barry went hitless that night and made an error didn't help his case, either. But Wolfman cooled off and we were both in the lineup the next night.

The point of these anecdotes has not been to tell funny stories on myself nor to make Wolfman appear to have been an old softie who let screwball high school kids get away with murder. Make no mistake, Wolfman was tough. But he was tough at the right times; not at those times when being a hardnose might destroy a kid's self-confidence. He had a sense of humor and was enormously patient with us flakes, and we responded. In the three years I was on the varsity baseball team at Mission we lost just three league games.

AT ONE POINT during the lunch that day, Wolfman, after reciting another of those hundreds of anecdotes any coach has, shook his head in wonderment, grinned and said "I'll tell you. There's nobody in the whole world like a Mission kid."

And there was nobody in the whole world like a Mission baseball coach named George Wolfman.

AT THE CONCLUSION of a recent column questioning the wisdom of the new C.I.F. ruling which will allow high school female athletes to compete with male high school athletes, we said, "This entire problem could be solved if only someone in authority some day has the intelligence and courage to cite the fact that there really are a great many emotional, psychological and physiological differences between males and females."

Well, a Little League physiologist did it at least partially the other day in testifying in a federal courtroom action in Detroit concerning one of those little girls who want to play Little League baseball. We say partially only because Crayton J. Hale limited his discussion to things like differing bone structures, muscle mass and movement and reactions times that "cause men and women to be different."

Hale said that girls have the tendency to get injured more often than boys, and that they thus shouldn't be allowed to play baseball together.

All we need now is a psychologist to explain the emotional part of it, and we can get back to male chauvinist baseball.

Admissions to Skyline

Applications for admissions forms for enrollment at Skyline College for the fall term still are available at the college both for recent high school graduates and residents in San Mateo County, James Wyatt, dean of students, has announced

Along with securing an application, prospective students who plan to attend the college should plan to take the placement test scheduled for Saturday, August 4 at 8 a.m. in Building 1, Room 131 at the college

For further information about the fall term admission procedures and applications may be had by writing the dean of admissions-records, Skyline College, 3300 College Drive, San Bruno 94066 or phone Monday thru Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., 355-7000, extension 251.

Misfits, Master Batters Keep Records Clean

Milio's Misfits continued on the same hot streak they have displayed by defeating Rolland's Soul City 13-3 and ran their record to 2-0 in the Adult Softball A League sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division. Every Misfit scored at least one run in a showing of real team balance.

PT & T behind the supper two hit pitching of Jim Wiley Sr. "short wired" the Misfits 8-0. Rick Brewer led the attack with a three-rum homer as the phone men covered their record at 1-1.

Hillside Master Batters had little trouble straightening out Tippy's 23-6. Joe Donnelly and Steve Wilson each chipped in five hits with Danny Caprini hitting tyo off-field home runs for the Master Batters

Flower-Rite rebounded after an opening game loss to defeat the Good Time Boys 6-1 and thus ran both teams records to 1-1.

In the final game of the week Skyline Plaza Jug Shop defeated the Misfits 8-3. Don Carter and Joel Carrara led the hitting attack for the Jug Shop with three hits each and "Wilbur" avellar pitched another good game for the shoppers.

'I'll Take Vanilla' -- A Billion Gallons

The Roman Emperor Nero is said to be the first person to sample a frozen desert. But, the Chinese are given credit for discovering the ice cream formula that explorer Marco Polo brought back to European civilization, according to Dairy Council of California.

Polo, however, made one major change in the Chinese formula — he substituted milk for water. Today, one in every three homes has a similar form of ice cream in the refrigerator. In 1972 more than ¾ billion gallons were consumed in this country alone. Adding the total ice milk consumption, that figure rasises to 1.1 billion gallons of ice cream or its imitation eaten last year.

"The first ice cream factory was opened in Baltimore in 1851," said Sara Cina, Dairy Council nutrition consultant, "but it wasn't until the ice cream cone was introduced at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 that it swept the country was

"Ice cream provides the same nutrients found in one-half cup of milk," she pointed out. "Of the more than 200 flavors, vanilla is still the most popular. It is followed by chocolate, strawberry, neopolitan, coffee, peach and butter pecan," she said.

Here are some suggestions for dressing up the popular dessert:

ALMOND-PEACH ICE CREAM
(makes 1 gallon)

2 cups fresh peach pulp
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 quart undiluted Evaporated Milk
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vanilla

Mash peaches and measure 2 cups. Blend into remaining ingredients. Pour into 1 gallon freezer can. Cover and freeze with ice salt mixture in proportions recommended for freezer. When ice cream is frozen; pour off the brine. Remove dasher and cover top of container with plastic wrap and replace cover. Pack with ice and salt and allow ice cream to mellow several hours or longer.

FROZEN VAILLA CUSTARD
(makes 1 gallon)

3 quarts non-fat milk
2 cups sugar
6 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
8 eggs, slightly beaten
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 tablespoons Vanilla

Scald 2½ quarts of milk. Add the remaining 2 cups to the sugar, flour and salt which have been blended together. Pour the sugar mixture into the hot milk and cook over low heat until thickened. Remove from heat. Add some of the hot mixture gradually to the eggs and return all to the milk mixture. Stir in the gelatin which has been softened in the cold water. Continue cooking until mixture coats a spoon.

Refrigerate for several hours or overnight. Add vanilla to cooled mixture. Pour into 1 gallon freezer can. Freeze according to directions recommended for freezer. Allow to ripen several hours before serving.

ICE CREAM CIRCUS
(makes 4 servings)

Cut a round pint of ice cream into 4 slices. Make cages by placing 4 candy sticks on each slice. Put one or more animal crackers in the middle. Set a chocolate cookie on top of candy sticks. Freeze or serve immediately.

ANGEL'S RAINBOW
(makes 4 serving)

1 angel food loaf cake
1 pint black cherry ice cream, softened
1 pint mint ice cream, softened
1 cup whipped cream, whipped and sweetened

Cut cake lengthwise into 4 equal layers. Spread cherry ice cream on 2 layers, and mint ice cream on other 2 layers. On foil covered cardboard stack layers, alternating ice cream flavors. Freeze until firm. Frost sides of loaf with whipped cream and decorate edge around top and base with whipped cream put through a decorator tube. Return to freezer to set cream.

Oriental Savor for Fish Dish

A fish dish is this week's lesson in Oriental cuisine by Titus Chan, who presents "The Chan-ese Way" on Saturday's at 5:30 p.m. on KQED Channel 9.

POACHED MULLET

Use a 1½-pound mullet, sea bass, trout or any other fish that is of good quality and does not have many small bones.

Lay it on a chopping board and with a knife score the body of the fish by making one row of diagonal cuts about 2 inches apart and 1½ inches deep, from head to tail.

Repeat on the other side.

COOKING LIQUID:

4 green onion stalks
1½ square inch of fresh ginger root or 1 tablespoon ginger powder
10 cups hot water

Pour the water into a 14-inch wok or other large, thick pan big enough for the fish.

Crush the ginger root and green onions with a heavy knife and add to the water, bringing it to a boil.

If ginger powder is used, add half of a large onion which has been quartered. Let the water boil for 10 minutes.

Put the fish in the water, making sure that it is covered by at least ½ inch of water. When the water comes back to a boil, lower the temperature gradually until it continues to boil very gently. Cook for 15 to 20 minutes.

Use a fork to prick at the meaty part of the fish — if it breaks off easily, the fish is done.

Transfer the fish immediately to a heated platter and discard the stock. During the cooking, do not cover or turn the fish.

SAUCE:

¾ cup peanut or vegetable oil
⅝ cup soy sauce

While cooking the fish, heat the oil in a sauce pan, until medium hot. Remove from the heat and add the soy sauce. Pour the sauce over the fish, covering the broken skin with Chinese parsley or green onions cut in 1½-inch strips. Serve immediately.

As a main course, this recipe will serve two. Steamed long grain rice and hot tea is suggested to accompany the fish. Spooning some of the sauce over the steamed rice has long been enjoyed by many Orientals.

Avocado Balls Used as Trim

Garnish a fresh fruit cup with avocado balls. To make these, press the flat side of a ball cuter or a ½-teaspoon measuring spoon into peeled avocado, keep turning the cutter or spoon until a ball is formed.

Start a Meal With Celery

Celery is great for use in salads or as an hors d'oeuvre. When you buy celery, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says to look for solid, rigid, stalks with green leaflets that look fresh or only slightly wilted. The stalks should be light green or medium green with a glossy surface. Avoid celery with discoloration on on the center branches.

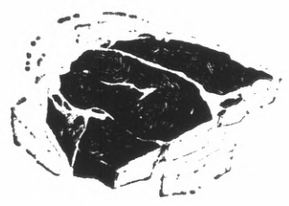
WE DISCOUNT EVERYTHING Except QUALITY, COURTESY, SERVICE

PRICES EFFECTIVE WEDNESDAY, JULY 25th THROUGH JULY 31st, 1973.



One of the joys of outdoor eating is seeing a luscious steak cooking on a barbecue grille. Since meat is a sizeable item in any budget, the way the steak is trimmed of excess fat and bone is just as important as the price per pound. That's why we're proud of Lucky-Trim meats . . . and it's good to know that our T-Bone and Porterhouse Steaks do have the "tails" removed before weighing and packaging to give you more good eating per pound!

Whether you plan to serve hamburgers of steak, Lucky guarantees that every piece of meat sold in Lucky Stores has been carefully selected to meet our high standards of quality. If after preparing and serving, you are not completely satisfied, tell the Store Manager. He will gladly refund your purchase price.

Food costs less at Mayfair!

Uncle Sam helps us prove that food cost less at Mayfair last week than at 7 other top chains

RETAIL FOOD PRICE COMPARISONS
BASED ON U.S. DEPT. OF LABOR, BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS ITEM LIST, IN MAYFAIR DISCOUNT AND IN OTHER STORES, EFFECTIVE JULY 12 TO 13

San Jose-Bay area Competitor	No. of Items	Unit $ Total Mayfair	Unit $ Total Competitor	Savings At Mayfair
Discount Chain A	82	54.42	57.36	2.94
Discount Chain B	84	52.87	54.27	1.40
Discount Chain C	82	52.90	55.03	2.13
Discount Chain D	86	56.39	57.09	.70
Non-discount Chain E	86	54.09	59.79	5.70
Non-discount Chain F	82	53.33	61.02	7.69
Non-discount Chain G	77	46.90	52.37	5.47

Again last week, we compared food prices with the major supermarkets in this area.

"Specials", "total discount", and most other kinds of prices were compared. In this survey of July 12 to 13, Mayfair's overall food prices were lower than seven other top supermarket chains'.

To try to be fair, the comparisons were again with Uncle Sam's list, the same full list of items that the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, uses every month to measure food prices as part of the cost of living.

These comparisons show you could have saved from $.70 to $7.69 on the $50 to $60 worth of basic foods in this list.

With the high cost of living these days, really, can you afford not to buy your food at Mayfair?

Channing Is Women's Champion

Channing Fund swept the summer slow-pitch softball league for women, sponsored by the Day City Recreation Department, with a final standing of 6-0 for the six-week double round robin.

The last game for Channing Fund came easy with a 33-0 win over Tippy's Team. Karen Ward, Doreen Daneri and Ava Cammarlleri each connected for a homerun, backed with a triple from Chris Rocco.

Runs were scored by Sharon Cassidy, Claire Anderson, Linda Harmon and Mary Anderson. A hearty effort was made by Tippy's Team with Jeanne Sunderland and Sandi Fosti each getting two hits.

Second place honors were determined in a playoff between Righteously Together Women and Byrd's Trucking. Going into the playoff each team had a 3-3 record. The hard-played final game ended with a 17-12 win for Byrd's. Pricella Ozene, Linda Tanksley, Reney Griffen and Mildred Adams led Byrd's in runs scored.

The R. T. Women gave it all they had, with high scorers being Cathy Redmond, Donella Martinez and Mavis Hackett.

A late summer league is getting underway August 5 at the Westlake Park south diamond. All players must be 18 years of age and all teams are welcome.

Interested teams should contact Katherine Bradshaw, recreation supervisor, at 992-5356 for further information. League fees will cover umpires, game balls and league trophies.

Flying Goose

The Flying Goose baseball team, composed of many excellent players from Daly City's three high schools leads the Joe Dimaggio League by two full games after Sunday's action, in which Flying Goose downed South San Francisco twice, 4-0 and 7-3.

In the first game Gavin Long threw zeroes at the South San Francisco nine and Ken Smith, Lance Judd and Larry Ortez each collected two hits for the winners. In the second game catcher Dennis Sims collected three hits. Mark Racetto had two and Lance Judd had the big hit with a bases loaded triple in the third inning.

DC Groups Help Skyline Squad

The Daly City Chamber of Commerce and Daly City Lions Club came to the rescue of the Skyline College track and field athletes recently when they contributed the funds to send three of the SC squad to the National Junior Team Championships competition.

Tom Swartzell took third place in the decathlon with 6154 points while runners Jim Wyatt took sixth place in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in the semi-finals and 120-yard high hurdler Bart Pierce took a fourth place spot in that event's semi-finals.

Swartzell would have been on the team to compete in Europe but Germany dropped out of the competition which forced the United States team to cut back its team size. Instead of taking the top four athletes the U.S. coaches were forced to take only the top two place winners in each event.

Nab Man Mother For Films

Foster City Police Chief John J. Norton today announced that his department has arrested a 64-year-old woman and her 47-year-old son on charges of criminal conspiracy and of distributing obscene material.

Norton said the arrests culminated a two-month investigation by Det. Sgt. Michael McClenahan which began with "an advertisement seen in a local underground newspaper."

"Three separate motion pictures were purchased through the U.S. mails as a result of answering these advertisements," Norton said.

The Lefcourt residence at 818 Constitution Drive was searched, after Dep. Dist. Atty. H. Kelly Ogle had assisted in obtaining a search warrant, said the chief.

"Additional motion pictures" were seized, the chief said.

The accused are Bette Lefcourt, 64, and Albert Lefcourt, 47, doing business under the name of Maxon Products, the chief said.

Mrs. Lefcourt and her son surrendered themselves to the Berkeley Police Department, and posted bail of $1,000 each, on warrants issued by Judge Alan W. Haverty's court in San Mateo.

Bump Answered By Hatchet in San Bruno Lot

Opening a car door and inadvertently knocking against the side of another parked vehicle provoked an unexpected response in San Bruno.

Police tell it this way:

About 10:15 p.m. Saturday Doris Buckingham and her companion, Michael Wolf, drove into the parking lot of Kentucky Fried Chicken, 1799 El Camino Real.

Wolf, who was driving Miss Buckingham's car, got out of the parked vehicle. As he did, police said, the door "lightly bumped" the passenger side of another vehicle, the occupants of which have remained unidentified.

According to police, while Wolf was inside the eatery, the passengers in the other vehicle began to berate Miss Buckingham for alleged damage to their vehicle.

Police said a brief argument ensued, and quickly became very heated. At that point, according to police, an occupant of the nearby car took a small hatchet from beneath the seat and proceeded to beat it against the driver's side door of Miss Buckingham's auto.

After that, police said, the other car sped away southbound on El Camino Rial.

Montessori Post for CND Faculty Member

Sister Christina Marie Trudeau, SNDdeN, M.Ed., director of the early education programs (formerly called the Montessori Program) at College of Notre Dame in Belmont, was elected to the board of directors of the American Montessori Society at its twelfth annual meeting, held recently in Mackinac Island, Mich.

The society is a self-supporting, non-profit organization founded in 1962. It acts as an informational clearing house and central purchasing office for approved Montessori learning tools, gives and approves Montessori teacher training courses, and certifies Montessori teachers throughout the United States.

Sister Christina Marie has spent 22 years in the teaching field with the last nine in Montessori and early childhood education.

In her development of the early childhood education programs at College of Notre Dame, she has been a pioneer in the field; the college Early Education Center is the only one located west of the Mississippi which is operated both as a school and for teacher preparation.

Teacher preparation programs in early education now offered by the college include those leading to the American Montessori Diploma, the California Standard Teaching Credential with a specialization in early childhood teaching, and the master of education degree, all utilizing the Montessori approach for the education of the young child.

During the past academic year, training sites for teacher interns under the supervision of the Notre Dame department have been located throughout the Bay Area and in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles.

The facility at the college was designed by Sister Christina's brother, well-known Los Angeles architect J. Earl Trudeau.

Sister Christina will leave college of Notre Dame in September to establish an early childhood education program at Seattle University.

Carlos OKs Political Sign Law

San Carlos councilmen last night adopted a new political sign ordinance because a 24-year-old college student took the city to court last fall over its old one.

The new ordinance allows political signs up to four feet high on private property, and demands removal of them five days after an election.

Last November, U.S. Circuit Judge Samuel Conti issued an order restraining city officials from enforcing a city ordinance which prohibited posting of political signs.

The court action began when Brian Dimeo, of 440 Chestnut St., posted a "McGovern-Shriver" poster on his front door, and was ordered by city officials to take it down. Instead, he went to court.

Ultimately, City Atty. Michael Aaronson called the city's ordinance unconstitutional.

In other action councilmen:

—Authorized expenditure of $2,500 to Ribera and Sue Landscape Architects, designers of the city's recent $5 million bond issue for parks development, to prepare public information literature and slides in advance of the projected November election.

—Were told by City Administrator C. R. Allen that an agreement has been reached with some 60 employes belonging to the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. Highlights include a $50 per month pay raise and a promise by the city to obtain written promotional exams "that are more relevant to the position to which they apply."

Settlements with police and fire unions are expected soon.

Red Cross Swim Sessions Slated

Registration for the last Red Cross summer swim session in San Mateo, to be held July 30 through Aug. 10, will take place Friday at four high schools. Hillsdale and Mills high schools will have their registrations from 10 a.m. to noon. Aragon and Capuchino high schools will have their registrations from 1 to 3 p.m. Classes will be held in beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate, and swimmer levels, for which there will be a $4 fee. Senior lifesaving will be at Aragon and junior lifesaving will be at Capuchino. A $5 fee fee, plus $1 for textbook, will be chrged for junior and senior lifesaving lessons.

Red Cross acts as a coordinating agency for this program provides program content and certification and trains the water safety instructors and lifeguards. The fee paid to the San Mateo Union High School District is to partially defray pool operation costs.

Funeral services were at Nauman & Lincoln Mortuary, followed by inurnment at Olivet Cemetery.

JAMES A. CHAMBERLIN

Prominent Millbrae civic leader and pioneer resident James Alexander Chamberlin died at his home at 311 Taylor Blvd., Thursday, at the age of 81.

He was a member of the Green Hills Country Club, the Millbrae post of the American Legion, and the San Mateo chapter of Sons in Retirement. He was a retired executive of the Pacific Telephone Co. and a veteran of World War I.

He was born in Minnesota, but lived in San Mateo County for 72 years.

He is survived by his widow, Martha, his son, James, and his daughter, Marianne France all of Millbrae, as well as one grandchild.

Private services were held at Chapel of the Highlands, followed by inurnment at Woodlawn Memorial Park.

JAMES R. SAUNDERS

James R. Saunders, 60, of South San Francisco, died at Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco last Friday after a short illness. He had been a district manager for the Walgreen drug chain.

A native of Nebraska, Saunders had lived in California for the past 30 years and in South San Francisco for the past year. He joined the Walgreen Drug organization after graduating from Creighton University, Omaha, as a druggist. In 1954 he was transferred from California where he had managed various stores from the chain to be district manager in Georgia. In 1957 he returned to California where he was named manager of California West, which included 20 stores from San Francisco to San Jose.

He is survived by a son, Dr. James R. Saunders, currently on duty with the Air Forces at Beale Air Force Base.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

PAYMENTS versus LEASING

IF YOU LEASE you do not own the car, the leasing company does. You cannot do with it as you wish. It is their car — not yours! Upon termination of most leases (unless you pay a much higher rate per month) you are responsible for the balance owing against the car. You may even end up owing more than it's worth. We sell directly to lease companies and make a profit. They in turn make additional profit when they lease to you! Buying directly from us eliminates the 2nd mark up.

IF YOU BUY you own the car. It is yours to do with as you wish. No mileage limitations or restrictions of any kind. At the end of 3 years the car is paid for and you own it. Free and clear! No balance! No deficiencies!

Buy with or without a trade-in (paid for or not) The choice is yours!

OVER 700 BRAND NEW 1973 FORDS To choose from — in stock or on the way! All at Year-End Close-out Prices which we firmly believe are the lowest in the Entire Bay Area! Check us out. Your proof will be our price.

All advertised specials available at time of offer. No adjustments can be made on cars purchased or ordered prior to this offer, in lieu of this offer, or without reference to this offer before delivery.
